SIX WON BY TAFT; T. R. DRAWS BLANK

Fight Between President's Rival Delegations Also Settled.

MAKES HIS TOTAL FOURTEEN

The Texas Contests Involving Thirty Delegates, Will be Taken Up Today—Hope of the Roosevelt Forces.

OUTCOME OF CONTESTS

Contests involving 14 delegates were decided by the Republican National Committee yesterday, the delegates being seated as follows:

	Taft.	Roosevelt.
Alaska	2	0
Oklahoma	2	0
South Carolina	2	0
Tennessee	8	0
Total yesterday	14	0
Previously settled	159	13
Total to date	173	13
Total number contested	254
Total number pending	68

Chicago, June 14.—President Taft received six delegates at the hands of the Republican National Committee in contests with the forces of Col. Roosevelt. To that number the committee added eight by the settlement of local fights between Taft rival delegations. Opposed to the day's gain of 14 by President Taft was another empty sheet for Col. Roosevelt.

When the committee adjourned at 2:50 o'clock this afternoon the Texas, Virginia and Washington contests remained as the struggles in which the Roosevelt leaders are to center their strength tomorrow. Up to tonight, the committee's labors have resulted as follows:

Today's results: For Taft in contest with Roosevelt, Oklahoma, First district, two; Tennessee, Second district, two; Ninth district, two. In contests between rival Taft delegations: South Carolina, First district, two; Tennessee, First district, two, Tenth district, two; Alaska two. Total contests decided 186. For Taft 173; for Roosevelt 13; remaining undecided 68. None of the contests today brought out the strong partisan feeling that has characterized many of the arguments and decisions in the committee room. In the three districts where Roosevelt contestants appeared, the colonel's partisans on the committee voted against the seating of the Taft delegates, but the only strong comment was on the decision of the Ninth Tennessee case, which Francis J. Heney asserted was a "clean steal."

A contest from Alaska that had not figured in the committee's lists was disposed of without argument just before adjournment. Credentials from a contesting delegation elected at Valdez May 29th, had been received by Secretary Hayward, but the committee declined to consider them.

The sudden and early termination of the day's proceedings resulted from the desire of President Taft's attorneys for more time to prepare the cases involving the 30 contested delegates from Texas. Col. Cecil Lyon, the Texas committeeman, declared the Roosevelt forces were prepared and desired to continue, but former Senator Dick asked, and was granted a continuance until tomorrow morning.

An attempt to take up the Virginia and Washington cases met similar opposition from the other side. Ormsby McHarg, the Roosevelt contest attorney, said his side was prepared to present the Texas cases, but would not argue the others.

By an agreement to consolidate the Virginia contests and to attempt a consolidation of the Washington cases it was made possible to present all the remaining contests tomorrow, it is believed.

The remaining contests include Texas, Virginia, Washington, the District of Columbia and the Third district of North Carolina. In the Fourth North Carolina both delegations are understood to be for Roosevelt.

In Virginia the chief issue is whether or not the conventions electing the Taft delegates were held in districts or buildings, at which negroes were excluded. The Washington contests center about the control of the Washington State Conventoion.

The contested delegates in Texas number 30; in Virginia 20; in Washington 14; in the District of Columbia 2, and in North Carolina 2.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Child of Rev. J. S. Black Fell Under Horse's Feet

Charlotte, N. C., June 14.—At Morganton yesterday afternoon the three-year-old child of Rev. J. S. Black fell from a buggy and was stepped on by a horse hitched to the buggy crushing out its life, death resulting instantly. Mr. Black is pastor of a Presbyterian church at Kinston and together with his family was on a visit to his wife's father, Charles Smith, at whose home the accident occurred.

SENATOR DIXON

NEGRO DELEGATE FLOPS OVER

Charles Banks, Taft Delegate From Mississippi, Writes Letter Saying He Will Support Roosevelt. "Returns Money."

Chicago, June 14.—A letter written by Charles Banks, one of the negro Taft delegates at large from Mississippi, to Directo McKinley, of the Taft headquarters, announcing that he would support Roosevelt, and was returning the "money placed in my hands, at your suggestion, to defray traveling expenses of some of the delegates from Mississippi," was given out tonight by Senator Dixon, manager of the Roosevelt campaign, and created a sensation in political circles.

The letter was unaccompanied by explanation from the Roosevelt managers, further than that "Senator Dixon received at Roosevelt headquarters this afternoon the following copy of a letter sent today to Hon. William B. McKinley:

"Banks and his associates on the Taft delegation at large were seated by the National Committee yesterday, against the protest of the Roosevelt contestants from the State.

The letter alleged to have been written to Mr. McKinley by Banks said, in part:

"In keeping with my suggestion of yesterday, I am returning to you herewith the money placed in my hands, at your suggestion, to defray traveling expenses of some of the delegates from Mississippi.

"It is apparent that some one connected with your campaign has been continually trying to discredit me before the country and with my people for some time.

"When I was in Washington a few weeks ago, looking after the new Federal Court bill from Mississippi, and called at your headquarters, your assistant, without any suggestion from me, whatever, brought up the matter of expenses for delegates from my State. I told him then and there, in your presence, that so far as I was concerned, I would not accept any expense money for myself whatever.

"You then proposed that I take enough for the rest of the delegates. I stated to you that they were all men who could get to Chicago, and you look after the matter; here both of you, however, proposed that the matter be closed then, to which I agreed."

Banks says in the letter that when he reached Chicago last Wednesday, he learned that some one had informed the Mississippi delegates that "You had given me a lot of money for them, as well as for myself." He adds that, "I am returning you herewith the money, and you can do as you see fit."

JUSTICE HUGHES UNCONCERNED.

Out of Politics, He Says, and Not Coveting the Nomination.

New York, June 14.—Justice Charles E. Hughes, of the United States Supreme Court, with his family, has gone to the Adirondacks, where he will pass the summer. He has taken a camp at Lake Placid for the season.

To friends here who spoke to him of the reports from Chicago, in which he has been mentioned as a possible compromise nominee for the Presidency, Justice Hughes said he was completely out of politics and would not permit the use of his name under any circumstances. He gave his friends clearly to understand they must regard this as final.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL.

Preparations to Care for Sick or Injured During Convention.

Chicago, June 14.—Preparations to care for the sick or injured during the convention at the Coliseum are nearing completion. A modern hospital is being arranged in the annex and a corps of physicians and nurses has been selected.

There will be an annunciator to show from what section of the building a distress sign is sent, and a red signal light over the chairman's table on the platform will inform the physicians that their services are needed.

ARE PLANNING TO HAVE BIG PARADE

Demonstration By Women Suffragists at Democratic Convention.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE WORKS

Baltimore, June 14.—Baltimore's woman suffragists are planning a big parade on Thursday evening of the Democratic Presidential convention week as a demonstration to the delegates and the leaders. Several thousand women are expected to be in the line of march. Some of the suffragists will be costumed in the heroic dress of women of history, while the parade will be led by mounted suffragists.

Whether the suffragists will make an effort to secure the incorporation of a suffrage plank in the Democratic platform was not known tonight. The Democratic National committeemen and Chairman Mack were interested in all news available regarding the suffragists. This afternoon the National committeemen were visited by a delegation of women representing the Women's National Democratic League, who volunteered their services in the coming campaign. Chairman Mack told the committee which came over from Washington that he would try to arrange seats for a sub-committee of their number at the convention.

An invitation has been received by Chairman Mack to hold the first meeting of the National Committee to select a chairman at Mackinac Island, Mich.

An invitation will also be sent to the Democratic Presidential candidate to hold the notification meeting there.

The National Committee spent the entire day arranging details of the convention and employing staffs of minor officials. An emergency hospital is to be established in the convention hall, and there will be a corps of 40 to 50 physicians. The doctors have volunteered their services.

Talking of the 90 votes which New York will cast in the convention, Chairman Mack as a member of the delegation, said tonight:

"The New York delegation, as you know, is uninstructed and will vote as a unit, but just who will be the favorite, I must admit, I do not know. We in New York are conservative and like to look the candidates over."

Mr. Mack said he had not heard of the report that the New York, Illinois and Indiana delegations would join forces to make a mutual nomination.

Former National Chairman Thomas Taggart, of Indiana, reached here tonight and said he knew nothing of the reported alliance between the New York, Illinois and the Indiana delegations. "If there is any alliance for purposes of nominations, it must be for Governor Marshall, of Indiana, first, last and all the time," remarked Mr. Taggart.

To Nominate Underwood

Washington, June 14.—Representative Underwood, of Alabama, will determine upon the designation of the man who will nominate him as Democratic nominee for President after a conference with Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, who is expected back tomorrow from New York, where he conferred with Democratic leaders. Representative Heflin, of Alabama, is the most persistently mentioned personal choice of Mr. Underwood to act as his nominating sponsor, but the final determination has been held in abeyance largely at the instance of Senator Bankhead, who is said to be weighing judgment on other claims for that honor.

GOING IN LUXURY TO CHICAGO

New York Delegates' Train Said to Be Finest Ever Made Up

New York, June 14.—A special train de luxe from engine to observation car and heralded as the finest that ever pulled out of New York, left here today at noon for Chicago with 200 delegates and alternates to the Republican convention and their friends aboard. Included in this number are more than a score of newspaper men.

The special consists of nine all-steel cars, two dining cars, a buffet car, and six drawing-room cars. The Roosevelt delegates who at first announced that they would make other plans for the trip will all be aboard, including Comptroller William A. Prendergast, who expects to place Col. Roosevelt's name before the convention.

The train is due to arrive in Chicago at 11:20 o'clock Saturday morning.

ARTILLERYMAN DROWNED

Savannah, June 14.—Private Harry G. Jamison, of Lynchburg, Va., was drowned at Fort Screven, Tybee Island, this morning, while practicing for a swimming contest. He was seized with cramps and drowned before his companions could reach him. He was 22 years of age and has been in the service six months. His mother is Mrs. W. L. Moody, of Lynchburg, Va.

WRECK STOPS TEDDY'S TRAIN

Large Boulder on Track Halts Roosevelt's Journey to Chicago Shortly After He Leaves New York—Delayed.

Albany, N. Y., June 14.—A large boulder in the path of the train which is bearing Col. Roosevelt to Chicago, brought his journey to an abrupt halt less than an hour after it began at 5:30 P. M. today. The train was bowling along at a high rate of speed when two miles north of Tarrytown it came to a sudden stop with a series of jolts, and the crunching of brakes. The accident fortunately was not a serious one, but it delayed the train's arrival an hour at Albany. The train reached here at 9:55 P. M., and left for the West at 10:28 P. M.

Col. Roosevelt sat quietly in his stateroom during the halt down the river without coming out to inquire the cause of the delay.

"I did not know what had happened until it was all over," he said.

The damage from the accident was inflicted chiefly upon the locomotive and the air brake equipment. The explanation of the accident generally accepted was that the boulder was rolled on to the track by boys. The force of the blow was shown by the pilot or "cow catcher" which was badly bent and twisted, one side of the heavy steel frame having been wrenched back more than a foot.

John McAuliffe, the engineer, said the obstruction was struck as the train was passing through a cut. The locomotive had just rounded a curve so that he did not get even a glimpse of the rock and his first intimation of the accident was the shock of impact. The stone or a fragment of it tore a gash in the hose conveying the compressed air, releasing the air and automatically applying the brakes.

Engineer McAuliffe said the boulder must have been at least two feet in diameter to work such havoc with the pilot. Instead of being hurled from the track, the stone passed under the locomotive and the first six cars of the train bumping against the axles and brake beams and tossing bars about. Although the passengers were not severely shaken, the brake beams were bent and two of the brakeshoes were wrenched from place. Col. Roosevelt was in the third car which bumped over the boulder a second after it struck the pilot.

JUDICIAL BILL AMENDED.

Senate Further Protects Acts of Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington, June 14.—To further protect the acts of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, the Senate today amended the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill to provide that no single Federal judge may enjoin or restrain the commission's orders.

The amendment, offered by Senator Cummins, provides that injunctions and restraints must be agreed upon by a majority of three judges who shall be the chief justice of the United States and two other justices. An amendment by Senator Crawford to extend the Cummins amendment to injunctions against State administrative boards was passed.

Senator McCumber asked the Senate to assign the five judges of the Commerce Court to other United States courts, but it refused, 25 to 23. The House and Senate have voted to cut off the court's appropriation, and the Senate has voted to abolish the court and end the terms of officers of its justices. The Senate finally passed the bill, and it now goes to conference with the House.

OUTLINES

President Taft announced yesterday that he would not consider a compromise candidate for the Presidential nomination.

Col. Roosevelt's journey to Chicago yesterday was brought to an abrupt halt near Albany when his train hit a large boulder which was on the track.

Col. Roosevelt left New York late yesterday afternoon for Chicago, where he will arrive this afternoon at 4 o'clock to take personal charge of the fight for delegates.

Women suffragists are planning to hold a big parade and demonstration at Baltimore during the Democratic convention and may ask the meeting to incorporate a suffrage plank in the party's platform.

Three hundred and fifty deputies were sworn in at Perth Amboy, N. J., yesterday to prevent a striking mob from engaging in rioting. During the day and night three persons were killed and many injured.

The political storm centers at Chicago were all agog last night over Roosevelt's departure for that city, and many surmises were made as to the probable effect of the last maneuver of the Roosevelt forces.

Roosevelt headquarters at Chicago yesterday gave out a letter said to be written by Charles Banks, a negro Taft delegate from Mississippi, saying he was going to support Roosevelt and was returning money paid him for traveling expenses.

The work of the Republican National Committee yesterday added 12 more votes to the Taft column, the President being given two each from Alaska, Oklahoma and South Carolina and eight from Tennessee, where the contest was between rival Taft factions.

TRAIN ON GEORGIA CENTRAL WRECKED

THREE ARE SERIOUSLY HURT

Engineer Couldn't See Freight on Account of Curve—Public Investigation Today—List of Injured Passengers

Macon, Ga., June 14.—Nineteen were injured, three seriously, when Central of Georgia passenger train from Birmingham, due in Macon at 1 o'clock A. M., crashed into 13 coal cars at Everetts, 37 miles from this city, shortly after midnight this morning. The engineer's vision was obscured by a curve, and the engine had collided with the string of cars before he had time to reverse his throttle. There will be a public investigation at Fort Valley tomorrow morning, when citizens will be asked by the railroad to serve on the committee making the inquiry. The freight cars were shoved off of a siding by a freight train that backed off the main track to make way for the oncoming passenger.

The injured are:

T. J. Mullins, Macon, engineer, seriously scalded.

Ed Johnson, negro fireman, Macon, seriously scalded.

W. L. Vellins, Brooklyn, N. Y., serious spinal injury.

J. B. Reeves, conductor, Macon, arm and shoulder bruised and sprained.

A. F. Cumbus, baggagemaster, Macon, back sprained and body wounds.

C. B. Geslin, Macon, neck sprained.

J. Tom Davis, Macon, shoulder sprained.

Bob Carson, negro, Macon, ankle sprained.

J. J. Chilure, Reynolds, Ga., back sprained.

Charles Hanner, Macon, forehead cut.

J. C. Doss, Rome, Ga.

Arthur Darden, Anniston, Ala., internal injuries.

Miss A. L. Baylor, Charleston, W. Va., internal.

Mrs. S. J. McMath, Columbus, head bruised.

Miss Louise McMath, Columbus, sprains.

L. L. Feagle, Macon, leg cut.

R. H. Cheatham, Macon, knee hurt.

W. D. Bagleby, express messenger, Macon, internal.

PUNISHMENT WIFE DESERTION

Edwin J. Cooley Favors Courts of Domestic Relations

Cleveland, Ohio, June 14.—The imprisonment of wife deserters or husbands charged with non-support is simply legalized and enforced family desertion, unless the convicted husband is placed at hard labor and the proceeds of his labor turned over by the municipality or the State for the support of his family, says Edwin J. Cooley, probation officer of the Supreme and County Courts of Buffalo, in an address before the National Conference of Charities and Correction here this morning. The speaker argued in favor of the establishment of courts of domestic relations as distinct from criminal courts, and the treatment of offenders of this class by probationary methods rather than commitment to jails and prisons.

"Such courts could and would upon their own initiative and through the probation officers," said Mr. Cooley, "get in close touch with all the agencies of the community which make for constructive, preventive work. If it be true that these non-support and desertion problems involve the happiness of the family and the future welfare of the children, both morally and materially, as well as the economic interests of the community a persistent effort must be made to utilize to the full the church, the charity organizations, public agencies caring for dependent children, playground associations, settlements, the library, and the other agencies in the community that can help. Sane, conservative use of these forces under careful direction and supervision will hasten the time when courts involving domestic relations will take a justifiable [illegible] in the number of families they [illegible] out of court rather than [illegible] of cases on their dockets."

TO QUELL MOB OF STRIKERS

Three Hundred Deputies Sworn In at Perth Amboy, N. J., to Prevent Rioting—One Man Killed and Three Wounded

Perth Amboy, N. J., June 14.—Two thin lines of deputy sheriffs heavily armed, held at bay tonight 2,000 strikers who tried to storm the $5,000,000 plants of the American Smelting & Refining Company and the Barber Asphalt Works adjoining, while searchlights atop high towers played upon the rioters. Two hundred shots or more were fired by the deputies at the mob which gathered behind the 10-foot embankment of the New York & Long Branch Railroad. When the firing ended one man, a strike sympathizer, lay dead and several of the mob were injured.

The net result of the day's rioting stands tonight at three dead and seven injured. Of the dead one was a striker, one was a man at work and the third was the night watchman at the Perth Amboy Tobacco Company plant. The injured are all strikers except Sheriff Bollschweiler, who was stoned as he was patrolling the district in his automobile.

Six men are under arrest, charged with carrying concealed weapons and inciting to riot.

The trouble started with the arrival tonight of a squad of 50 deputies on the roadway opposite the refinery.

Perth Amboy, N. J., June 14.—Three hundred and fifty armed men were sworn in this afternoon and tonight as deputy sheriffs to quell the mob of strikers who today attacked the big plant of the American Smelting and Refining Company.

Under the direction of Sheriff Bollschweiller, the defensive force took command of the roadway leading past the plant. Their orders were to shoot the strikers if necessary. Within the high paling surrounding the works 60 guards with 30-40 repeating rifles were stationed at vantage points to prevent a repetition of the rioting today when one man was killed and three wounded in an attempt to burn the fence and storm the plant.

Atop a high steel tank just inside the paling there were stationed this afternoon a gatling gun which commands the roadway and its men have orders to use it if the rioters gain access to the works. A lull followed the rioting of this forenoon.

There are now approximately 5,000 men and women on strike at six plants here. The strikers demand an increase in wages. There will be no call made by Sheriff Bollschweiller for troops until he is satisfied that his force of deputies cannot cope with the situation. Governor Woodrow Wilson is keeping in close touch with affairs here.

Five hundred strikers held a mass meeting late today and appointed a committee of two to wait upon Jesse Seaman, general manager of the American Smelting and Refining Company plant for a reply to their demands. Mr. Seaman informed the committee that the demand would not be considered until the rioting ceased. One of the leaders when informed of Mr. Seaman's reply said:

They have got to grant our demands; if they do not we will blow the whole works up."

The body of Joseph Allgiar, night watchman at the Perth Amboy handkerchief works, where a thousand girls are on a strike, was found in a clump of bushes in the Hungarian section of the city this afternoon. There was a bullet wound through his head and a pistol in his hand, indicating that it was a case of suicide. The coroner, however, is working on the theory that he was murdered and the [illegible]son placed with the body to give [illegible]pearance of self-destruction.

T. R. DEPARTS FOR THE FIRING LINE

THE TAFT FORCES GET BUSY

Announcement Causes Stir in President's Camp—Has Enough to Win, Says McKinley—Big Demonstration.

New York, June 14.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt started for Chicago late today to lead the fight for his nomination at the Republican convention. He left on the Lake Shore Limited at 5:30 P. M. and is due in Chicago tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The colonel said he was going in response to a unanimous demand of the Roosevelt delegates that he come "not as a candidate, but because for the time being I stand as representing the principles for which the rank and file of the Republican party have overwhelmingly decided in the States where they have had an opportunity to express their wishes at primaries."

The colonel announced his decision to start for the political storm center and take personal charge of the fight for delegates shortly after midday.

While during the forenoon he was besieged with inquiries as to his intention, he had been non-committal up to that time. The fact, however, that the former President had motored up from Oyster Bay early in the morning, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, with baggage aboard the machine, gave rise to expectations that he had decided to go and the announcement did not cause surprise.

Col. Roosevelt disappointed a crowd of some 200 persons gathered at the Grand Central station to see him off by entering the train shed from the 45th street side of the station, and descending to the track platform by a freight elevator. There were nine in the Roosevelt party besides the colonel. There were Mrs. Roosevelt, Regis H. Post, former Governor of Porto Rico; Theodore Douglas Robinson, a nephew; George D. Roosevelt, a cousin; Kermit Roosevelt, and the remainder included members of the Outlook staff.

A squad of newspaper men accompanied the colonel and his party. Arrangements were made to get telegraphic reports of the situation in Chicago at various stops.

The colonel blossomed out today in a brand new hat of sombrero type and of pearl gray hue. Another distinctive feature of his garb was a large blue neck tie with wide diagonal stripes, which left little to be seen of the familiar turndown collar, and which contrasted bravely with the dark overcoat he wore over his light gray suit.

Col. Roosevelt made but one appearance from the seclusion of his office during the afternoon when he was shown a newspaper headline quoting President Taft as saying: "I will win." As the paper was spread out before him, and a request made for his comment, Col. Roosevelt gave it a quick glance and frowned. His only response was an impatient grunt.

The Gossip in Chicago.

Chicago, June 14.—Roosevelt's actual start from New York this afternoon to inject his own personality into the situation surrounding the battle for delegates to the Republican National Convention, was practically the only topic of conversation after the fact became known. The probable effect of his arrival and presence here upon his own candidacy was the subject of forecast and comment as various as the identity of the speaker.

To the Taft leaders the announcement of Col. Roosevelt's coming was in the nature of "a red rag to a bull." Director McKinley, of the Taft campaign management, issued a statement soon after Mr. Roosevelt's starting became known, in which he declared unequivocally that the certain Taft strength was 594 delegates, 54 more than enough for a nomination. He and all the other Taft leaders declared Roosevelt's coming was the surest possible indication of desperation and knowledge of defeat. He asserted that at a conference of the Roosevelt people held Thursday afternoon their most optimistic figuring showed a Roosevelt total of 78 votes short of the necessary 540 votes.

Mr. McKinley declared that the Roosevelt managers here had sent for their chief as a last hope when they were convinced of impending defeat.

More significant, however, was the table of delegate figures which accompanied Mr. McKinley's statement. The 594 delegates which he listed in the Taft column included all of the contested delegations, 64 in number, from Texas, Virginia, and Washington, upon whose cases the National Committee has still to pass.

About the same time rumors were current everywhere that the Taft majority on the committee had decided definitely to give Taft every remaining vote within their power from the contests still pending before the committee. Early in the evening it was expected that a more or less formal caucus of the majority would be held before the night was over to adopt this as a definite policy.

With the increasing definiteness of these rumors came an even more definite decrease of such "peace talk" as had softened the situation to some ex-

American Athletes Have Many Triumphs Behind Them

New York, June 14.—The American athletes on the way to Stockholm for the sixth Olympiad have behind them the history of American triumphs in the athletic events of all modern renewals of the ancient Greek games. At the first revival at Athens in 1896 they captured first prize medals in nine of the fourteen athletic events on the programme, leaving the Englishmen three and the Danes and Greeks one each. At Paris in 1900 there were 23 events, of which the Americans won 17; at home, in St. Louis, 1904, the "home talent" won all but 2 of the 26 events; at Athens again in 1906 they took 11 of the 22 events, and in London four years ago they brought the prowess of the American athlete to the fore again by capturing 14 of the 26 events.

In short, out of the 111 athletic events listed in a tabular review of winners in previous Olympiads the Americans are credited with 75 victories; of the records established in 37 different events in the list, the Americans hold 21. In six events on the Stockholm programme the Americans have already in preliminary trials made new records, forecasting, as all patriotic enthusiasts believe, an assured triumph for a sixth time.

WANTS APPROPRIATION

Taft Asks for Money to Protect Imperial Valley

Washington, June 14.—In a special message President Taft today asked Congress to appropriate $1,250,000 to protect the Imperial Valley of California against emergencies of floods from the Colorado river while negotiations for the protection of that territory are pending with Mexico.

Needles, Cal., June 14.—The Colorado river reached the highest point in its history today and for a hundred miles north and south of Needles, the flood situation was grave.

The government dyke on the Arizona side of the river opposite this city crumbled and the waters poured into the low lands near Fort Mojave. Four houses were swept into the stream with the last break. Considerable alarm was felt here.

And about the fly nuisance. Are you taking any sort of practical interest in its suppression? If not, why not?

For tennis and outdoor sports the blazer jacket is worn.

FOURTEEN INNING GAME.

Best Contest Yet Played in the Sunday School League.

In decidedly the best game yet played in the Sunday School League, the First Presbyterians yesterday afternoon defeated the Fifth Street Methodists after a 14-inning struggle on the Parsley diamond at Hilton by a score of 2 to 1. Each team scored in the second inning, but from then on until the 14th no scoring was allowed, though both sides had men cut off at the plate.

The game was fast and snappy, spectacular one-handed stabs and double plays preventing scoring on several occasions. The winning run in the 14th came after Bowen had been retired, when Hashagen beat out an infield hit, stole second and third and came home on a single by Munroe. The Methodists came very near tieing the game in their half on hits by Raleigh and Todd, but the side was finally retired with men on bases.

GEORGE SWANN CAPTURED

Negro Who Killed Red Springs Man Caught at Hamlet

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Lumberton, N. C., June 14.—George Swann, the negro who shot Mr. Charles Gibson, of Red Springs, N. C., on the night of May 31st, putting out both of his eyes and inflicting wounds from which he later died, was captured at Hamlet last night. Rewards by the mayor and citizens of Mr. Gibson's town aggregating $900 were offered for the negro's capture.

Sheriff E. C. McNeill, of Robeson, and Chief of Police H. H. Redfern, of Lumberton, went to Hamlet last night to take the negro in charge. They did not bring him back to this county, and probably carried him to the State penitentiary at Raleigh for safe-keeping.

The shooting of Mr. Gibson was without provocation and citizens were very indignant. Swann escaped after committing the deed and eluded a posse of armed men who went in pursuit of him.

Washington, June 14.—Three Panama canal dump barges were towed by the tug Reliance 10,500 miles to reach a destination 47 miles away. The barges and the tug had to be transferred from the Atlantic to the Pacific side of the isthmus, and it was cheaper to send them around the Horn than to "knock them down" for shipment directly by rail.

State Normal College

We desire to call attention to the advertisement of the State Normal and Industrial College which appears in this issue. Every year shows a steady growth in this institution devoted to the higher education of the women of North Carolina.

Including the Training School, the College last year had a total enrollment of 905 students. Ninety-one of the one hundred counties of the State had representatives in the student body. Nine-tenths of all the graduates of this institution have taught or are now teaching in the schools of North Carolina.

The dormitories are furnished by the State and board is provided at actual cost. Two hundred appointments with free tuition, apportioned among the several counties according to school population, will be awarded to applicants about the middle of July. Students who wish to attend this institution next year should make application as early as possible, as the capacity of the dormitories is limited.

TARIFF WILL BE THE ISSUE.

Trouble of the Republican Party—Death Knell of Commerce Court.

(By C. H. Tavenner.)

Washington, June 14.—Why is the Republican party beset by its present difficulties? This question can be answered with one word—tariff.

The tariff was originally employed to meet the expense of the Civil War. To raise money for this emergency the government decided to tax every article of manufacture. The American manufacturers complained of this, and justly. They said the taxes were so heavy as to be ruinous, because they could not compete with imported articles which did not have to carry this tax. So a plan was devised to protect the American manufacturers.

"We will place a tariff on all imported articles," said the government, "which will put you on an even or better-than-even footing with your foreign competitors."

Everyone understood this protective system was to be but temporary, to meet an unusual condition, and that the tariff on imports would be abolished when it became no longer necessary to require the American manufacturers to pay a tax on their manufactures.

But in the meantime the privileged few had discovered that in the tariff lay a means by which they could build up enormous fortunes. Those fortunes were pointed to as an evidence that the tariff was a good thing. The protectionists fooled the people by making them believe that these fortunes had come from "the foreigners" when the fact was that the fortunes had been wrung from the common people who had been forced to pay artificially high prices for the things necessary to life.

The protectionists knew in their hearts of this deception, and then and there did humbug and fraud become part and parcel of politics. But the people have learned at last that tariff for protection, that a tariff for any other purpose than to raise sufficient revenue to meet the expense of the government, has no excuse in logic or economics. It needs no argument to convince the average man now that to reduce taxation is to reduce prices.

From the first, the manufacturers have never been satisfied with a reasonable amount of protection, but they keep on demanding more and more. The result is that the American consumers are today paying dividends on a trust capitalization of thirty-three billion dollars, 70 per cent. of which is water, while American working men and women, particularly those who labor for the most highly protected trusts, are receiving wages as low as $6, $7 and $8 a week.

And this is the reason why the Republican party is beset by its present difficulties.

Preparations are being made to add $15,000,000 to the Nation's coal bill this Winter. Each one of us must contribute our pro rata to the fortunes of the coal barons. There is no reason or justice for the extent of the increase, except that the millionaire coal kings want the money and are in a position to make the people either "come across" or freeze.

The coal operators, who have been forced to grant the miners an increase in wages, which they say will mean an additional cost of $5,000,000 in labor, are going to force the consumer to pay a sufficiently high price for coal to enable them to stand this increase, along with an additional extortion of $10,000,000, which will be clear profit to the trust. Thus for every dollar in increased prices that the coal operators propose to collect this Winter for the miners, they have decided to extort two dollars for themselves. All us helpless consumers have to do is to pay the bill. Always, always, it's the consumer who pays!

The death knell of the Commerce Court, which made a specialty of reversing the decisions of the Inter-State Commerce Commission whenever those decisions were in the interest of shippers and consumers, and of sustaining the Commerce Commission whenever its decisions were favorable to the railroads, has been sounded. The Democratic House voted it out of existence, and a coalition of progressive Republicans and Democrats in the Senate has sustained the House.

Manager Scherer, of the New York Clearing House, testified to many things before the Money Trust investigating committee that will cause the country banks to sit up and take notice.

The clearing house was shown to be composed of 50 New York banks. No bank with a capital stock amounting to less than $1,000,000 is eligible to membership.

Mr. Scherer's testimony revealed a system by which the New York banks gouge the country banks and their clients out of millions.

He said that it cost 7 cents per $1,000 to collect the checks of country banks. The Clearing House, he said, collects 70 cents per $1,000, or ten times the real cost.

The average charge per day for collections is about $80,000. It amounts to about $50,000,000 a year. From this fleecing process the 50 banks comprising the clearing house association extorted sufficient tribute from the country bankers last year to enable each of the 50 New York banks to pay an 8 per cent. dividend on their capital stock.

Thus is becomes apparent to every fair minded person why the New York City banks and financial magnates so bitterly opposed the investigation by Congress of the Money Trust.

LIEUT. HAZELHURST BURIED.

Army Officer Killed in Aeroplane Accident at Washington.

Washington, June 14.—Lieut. Leighton W. Hazlehurst, who was killed in an aeroplane accident on Tuesday, was buried in Arlington National cemetery early today with unusual military honors.

Though army regulations call only for a platoon of infantry for an officer of his rank, the entire garrison of Fort Myer, consisting of the First squadron of the 15th cavalry, the Second battalion of the Third field artillery, the cavalry band and every officer and enlisted man of the aviation corps were turned out.

Orville Wright also attended. Eight other aviator officers were honorary pall-bearers and the body bearers were enlisted men of the aviation school. Lieut Hazlehurst's body was buried beside the grave of Lieut. Selfridge.

"Why are you so late this morning?" thundered the boss. "My wife overslept herself," explained the suburban book-keeper, "and the cook had to get the breakfast."

INVESTIGATING DEATHS

Mrs. Louise Lindorf Arrested Pending The Results

Chicago, June 14.—Mrs. Louise Lindorf, 45 years old, was arrested by the police today pending the investigation of the deaths of her two husbands and three children, one of whom, a son, died today. The five are said to have carried insurance amounting to $10,650.

Henry Kuby, a roomer at the Lindorf home, also was taken into custody. The police said it was improbable that a charge would be placed against him, but they desired to question him.

The arrests followed a chemical examination of the viscera of Arthur Lindorf, 5 years old, by Dr. R. S. Lecount and Coroner Hoffman. The boy, who was insured for $2,375, was supposed to have died of pancreatic trouble, but Dr. LeCount became suspicious and notified the police.

Other deaths which are being investigated are:

Julius Graunke, first husband of Mrs. Lindorf, died August 12th, 1905, in Milwaukee, Wis., supposedly of sunstroke; insured for $2,000.

William Lindorf, second husband of Mrs. Lindorf, died August 3rd, 1910, supposedly of heart trouble; insured for $1,625. Frieda Graunke, 22 years old, died January 11th, 1908, supposedly typhoid fever; insured for $1,350.

Alma Graunke, died August 4th, 1911, supposedly from heart disease; insured for $2,300.

IN INTEREST OF FARMERS

Conference With View to Promote Teaching of Agriculture in Public Schools—Many Automobiles Purchased.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 14.—There has just been held in this city a significant conference between President H. Q. Alexander and State Educational Agent W. C. Crosby, of the North Carolina Farmers' Union; Dr. J. Y. Joyner, of the State department of education; Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham, and Dr. Hudson and Prof. Schaub, of the experiment station service, relative to the quickening of agricultural instruction in the rural schools. The conference was at the initiative of the Farmers' Union leaders who are just launching work for a State educational department for the union which it is the purpose to have promote teaching of agriculture and domestic science effectively in the public schools through class room work, corn and tomato clubs and other means. They are seeking, too, to improve rural school supervision, get better pay for the rural teachers, procure farm-life institutes for the rural teachers, and work up sentiment for instruction in practical co-operative marketing and distribution of farm products. Considerable progress was made in the conference toward mutual understanding of what is wanted and best means of attaining it. Especially were there assurances developed that there will be general co-operation in the purposes espoused by the Farmers' Union.

All records are being outstripped this month in the matter of the number of new automobiles being licensed in the State. Thus far for this month there have been 148 new machines licensed, this not including large numbers of automobile owners who have held licenses on old machines and have had them transferred to new, higher priced ones. Parties in touch with the automobile business say, too, that the machines being sold now are decidedly more high priced than in the past, the opinion being advanced that the 148 new machines thus far licensed this month will easily average $1,000 each. The automobile division of the department of State is just now burdened with renewals of automobile licenses for the next year. Renewals have to be made by June 30th.

Governor Kitchin announces a reward of $150 for M. D. Allen, who is wanted in Halifax county for the murder of his brother, this reward to supplement a reward offered by the Halifax county commissioners. Allen was jailed right after his crime was committed and broke out of jail.

President Paul W. Schenck, of the Guilford Battle Ground Association, here today from Greensboro, says that the idea of having a Fourth of July celebration out at the battle ground this Summer has been abandoned for a number of reasons and that the management is formulating extensive plans for a great affair for July Fourth, 1913, when it is expected that the statue of General Greene will be ready for unveiling. The government has appropriated $30,000 for this statue.

The Raleigh Chamber of Commerce has just completed the most successful year in its history with Henry E. Litchford, prominent banker, as president. He found it impossible to serve a second term and E. B. Crow, another of the most prominent bankers of the city, was chosen president in his stead. Col. F. A. Olds is retained as secretary, devoting his entire time to the work of the secretaryship. In his annual report President Litchford declared that it is incumbent on the street car management to materially improve service, especially by providing for sale of six tickets for a quarter instead of five cent straight fare and by better marking of the cars and the lines they are serving, different colors and special lights to be called into service to this end. The only concession the car management now makes is 20 tickets for 90 cents.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

Conference at Kinston — Christian Church to Build $40,000 Edifice

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., June 14.—Yesterday the State conference of the Epworth League, now in session at the Queen Street Methodist church here, was addressed by Rev. Mr. Fitzgerald, of Durango, Mexico. Mr. Fitzgerald is a Methodist missionary, formerly of Davidson county, North Carolina. He spoke interestingly of social, political and religious conditions in the southern republic. He likened the present condition in that troubled country to that in Cuba, which has been chosen by the league as its special field of work. The address was full of interest, and has been one of the features of the convention, thus far.

Last night devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. F. S. Love, of the local church, and addresses were made by Rev. J. C. Wooten, of Grace Street church, Wilmington, and Mr. Setzer, of the Methodist Training School, Nashville, Tenn. The quarterly conference of the Church was held after the devotional service.

The building committee of the Christian church has decided to begin work on the new church edifice for that congregation at once. The new home, which will be erected on the edge of the business district near Queen street, is to cost $40,000.

RUBE WORKS HARD.

McGraw Has Worked Marquard Every Fourth Day.

New York, June 14—Since the opening of the season, Manager McGraw has worked Rube Marquard every fourth day, and the man who cost the Giants $11,000 and went two years without earning a nickel for the team has fulfilled every prediction of the Little Napoleon.

Christy Mathewson says Marquard was useless for two years because he joined the Giants press-agented as the highest priced pitcher on earth, and went to the firing line in response to John T. Brush's request and against McGraw's judgment before he was ripe. He lost his first game and with it his confidence, and it required two hard seasons to regain his stride.

Marquard started as a semi-professional in Cleveland, O., as Richard de Marquis. He was nicknamed "Rube" Marquard, and it stuck. His first notable work was with Indianapolis, for which team he won the American Association pennant in 1908 and was sold for the record price as the result.

Marquard was referred to as the "biggest swindle in baseball" and his stock valued on a par with a certain yellow product that helped make Messina famous. Today Giant fans call him "Richard the Lion-Hearted."

Last year Marquard was unbeatable. He established a league record for strikeouts and shared honors with Mathewson. Now he has taken the regard of fandom.

Marquard's great asset, is his "smoke." He has terrific speed, which he has learned to control, and with it an assortment of curves such as left-handers only ever seem to acquire.

When McGraw was being roasted to a nice brown for keeping Marquard, he said: "I'll keep him because I know he is 'there'. Any youngster with the 'stuff' he has needs time. When he does come he will be a world wonder." And Marquard has since shown McGraw was right.

The one-time failure is the great sensation of baseball today. He commenced right where he left off last Fall and has won steadily.

Marquard is fortunate in having the Giants play splendid ball behind him. The team hits and steals bases when he is on the mound, as a glance at the statistical table proves.

WARD AND DAVIES NOMINATED.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., June 14.—The convention of the Seventh Senatorial district was held in this city today, the purpose being to nominate two candidates for the State Senate. At the opening of the convention Hon. Frank Thompson, of Onslow county, was made chairman, and the members of the Democratic press made secretaries. This organization at first was only temporary, but upon motion was made permanent.

There were four candidates for the nomination. Messrs. A. D. Ward, M. Leslie Davies, Albritton and Whitaker. When a vote was taken, it was found that Ward and Davies had reached 91 votes, and Albritton and Whitaker 25 votes each. After receiving the nomination, Messrs. Ward and Davies made short, but appropriate speeches in which they thanked their constituents for the honor conferred upon them, and promised to perform their duties faithfully.

FAYETTEVILLE IS SELECTED.

Underwriters' Association Favors Rating Bureau for North Carolina.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 14.—The North Carolina Fire Underwriters' Association adjourned its fifteenth annual session this afternoon to meet in 1913 in Fayetteville. The association elected as officers R. E. Follon, Winston-Salem, president; W. B. Merrimon, Greensboro, and Ernest Deans, Wilson, vice-presidents, and W. E. Sharpe, Burlington, secretary-treasurer. The association adopted formal resolutions urging that the Southeastern Tariff Association provide a rating bureau for North Carolina and endorsed Raleigh as the logical location in this State for the bureau.

The members of the association went this afternoon to the Country Club for a barbecue tendered them by the insurance men of Raleigh.

TO OUST THEIR OFFICERS?

Pressmen Dissatisfied Over the Recent Strike Fiasco

New Orleans, June 14.—An effort is to be made to oust the chiefs of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union of North America for trying to force a general strike to back up the fight at Chicago at the 25th annual convention at Rogersville, Tenn., on June 17th, according to members of the New York delegation. Franklin Union No. 73, who arrived here last night by steamer from New York. It is said the Chicago trouble probably will be the most important matter to be considered by the delegates.

Spartanburg, S. C., June 14.—Beginning with a sun-rise prayer service the delegates to the South Carolina Epworth League Coonference which is being held here, had their time occupied until late tonight with sessions devoted to Bible study, foreign missions and other business of the organization. Miss Bessie Houser, a missionary from China; the Rev. C. G. Hounshell, a missionary from Korea; the Rev. E. K. Hardin, the Rev. S. B. Harper and the Rev. C. B. Dawsey were the principal speakers. The district delegates met and elected the electoral commissioners who will nominate officers. The conference continues tomorrow.

Dawson, Ga., June 14.—Raymond Allen, the five-year-old son of Louis L. Allen, was crushed to death here this afternoon when he fell from a heavily loaded wagon and was run over.

Washington, June 14.—The Senate today agreed to vote July 2nd on the House Chemical Tariff Revision bill, and all amendments to it.

The age of romance is not dead. On the contrary, all the romance of past ages has been a preparation for the golden age that is promised by the advocates and promoters of public recreation in American cities. The delegates attending the sessions of the National Conference of Charities and Correction were told this evening by Joseph Lee, of Boston, in an address on "Boys, Girls and Rythm" that the problem before the cities is the meeting of boys and girls; that it is a problem not of evil, but of good, of how to keep this great budding force of nature, the mutual attraction of the sexes, to its natural task of producing strength and beauty, instead of permitting it to go to waste, and worse. "One way," said Mr. Lee, "is the promotion of romance. Girls are already sufficiently romantic, but boys should read Scott and Lorna Doone while still young enough to take them seriously. Nothing makes the grosser pleasures appear more flat and tawdry than a romantic ideal. Athletics constitute a sexual expression—a contemporary form of chivalry, which is simply the idealization of the sexual relation. All art is partly sexual. Singing especially is love's native tongue, and must be brought back from the professionals into our daily life. Dressmaking—from Praxiteles and Botticelli down to Worth—is the art not of hiding, but of revealing beauty, and should be taught to all girls in that intention. The danger in our dance halls and in any art is in the too simple rhythm which acts, like alcohol, as an anaesthetic, relaxing the conventional inhibitions, putting conscience to sleep. Safety is in the active, the creative, in the effort more worthily to present an ideal of beauty. Even coquetry—the frankly developed the of sex attraction—as seen, for instance, in a Scotch song or an Irish dance, is a safety, not a danger. Social dancing, when well done, aimed at a musical ideal, is a satisfaction more than an excitement. The true use of sexual attraction is to give beauty to life by being wrought into the infinite forms of art."

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payments for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Albeit, baseball is still a feature all its own.

The kind of valuable plants that ought to be growing up all around Wilmington is manufacturing plants. They will grow if we will cultivate our opportunities.

George W. Perkins and others have subscribed large sums to the campaign fund for Col. Roosevelt. Even so, the National Committee in Chicago is giving Teddy a run for his trust money.

The sea horse, which is supposed to come up out of the ocean and roam around on the beach after midnight, no doubt is the unbridled nightmare of a fellow who was in such a condition that he was not even able to ride the waves.

Says a contemporary: "A woman out in California has won her divorce suit and she is to have alimony and the custody of the dog.' Probably the man considers himself lucky that the court didn't put the dog off on him for support.

Lillian Russell's fourth or fifth husband is a Pittsburg editor named Moore. That will bring on Moore newspaper puns than the law allows. We are more interested in what possible motive the famous actress had in risking matrimony with an editor.

The Congressional Record is the parot of the American press. It adopts only the words of others, and it has no opinion of its own. However, it must be Democratic, for it has treated both Taft and Teddy with a silence as profound as that of the unknown tomb of Adam.

Senator Overman kept at his knitting until he knocked the Commerce Court out of the ring. The act passed yesterday and the only thing needed is the signature of the President. Inasmuch as he instituted the court it is not likely he will abolish it.—Greensboro Record.

It is to be supposed that thence on firing will be heard down the line and up again. —Charlotte Observer.

The combinations made in different States against Wilson by the other candidates or their friends, won for them press recognition as "the allies." It has demonstrated the ways of trained politicians and its failure and possible results ought to convince Democrats that the best way to obtain the will of the people and hold their confidence is by an open fight and free for all chance on the individual merits of men.

EDITOR DANIEL'S PROPOSITION.

Editor Josephus Daniels, of the Raleigh News and Observer, North Carolina's member of the National Democratic Committee, has been in Baltimore several days to participate in the preliminary arrangements for the National Democratic convention. Mr. Daniels, it is understood, will again have charge of the Democracy's press work during the campaign. At present he is conferring with other members of the committee about the convention arrangements and the preparations for the National campaign. Meanwhile, he has done some talking which has created considerable comment throughout the United States. North Carolina's National committeeman has made a suggestion which has gotten himself and North Carolina considerably in the limelight and which has generally been received with commendation by the press of the entire country.

Editor Daniels, in an interview published in the Baltimore Sun, suggested that the Baltimore convention should nominate a strong man for the Vice Presidency, following the precedent set by the Democratic conventions in 1876 and 1884. He urges that a "different" man be named on the ticket for second place, a statesman different from the kind of candidate ordinarily named for Vice President. His idea is that a nonenity should not be named, but isn't it a fact that the Democrats have almost invariably nominated good men for the Vice Presidency? The Republican party might plead guilty to nominating nonenities, but most of the men heretofore nominated by Democratic conventions have measured up well with the head of the ticket. However, that may be, Mr. Daniels advocates the nomination of a more than ordinary man for Vice President, and in doing so he makes a suggestion which can be universally endorsed. The Sun quotes Mr. Daniels as saying:

"This ticket should be 1876 and 1884 all over again. When Cleveland and Hendricks were nominated Hendricks was a candidate for the Presidency and said that he would not accept the Vice Presidential nomination. But he was finally persuaded to accept, and the Democrats put a ticket in the field which carried the party into power in this country. We won in 1876, too, although we were counted out. We have even greater opportunities now. We have at least four or five men who are big enough to be President. It is possible for only one of them to be nominated. Why turn from these men who stand for something and who are giant figures known the country over and choose for the Vice Presidential nomination one who is practically unknown or who is of only Vice Presidential size? He would add no strength to the ticket. In my judgment, the man who is second on the final ballot for the Presidency should be the nominee for Vice President. Thomas Jefferson did not think the job too small for him and we should go back to first principles of having a man for Vice President who is big enough to be President in the event of its being necessary for him to take the place. If Wilson is nominated and Clark second, then have Clark for Vice President. If Clark is nominated, then have Wilson for Vice President. Of course, I am for Wilson, and I think he is sure of the nomination, but in the event that he is not nominated, and is second on the final ballot, I think that he should accept the Vice Presidential nomination. If Harmon is nominated, or Underwood, or if either of these is second choice, he should be made to accept the second place on the ticket as a question of duty owed to the party. The ticket can't be too big; it can't stand for too much that the people know to be genuine. With such a ticket as could be made up from the first and second choices on the final ballot there would be no 'tail-ender' to drag along."

The timely and altogether practical suggestion of Editor Daniels has brought on a wide range of discussion, and the Sun itself lends editorial endorsement to it. In fact, we have observed a great many favorable comments and much hearty approval of it. The North Carolina committeeman is right, and his idea has served to emphasize a matter that is entitled to serious consideration. The American press and people generally have been disposed to make a joke of the Vice Presidency, not so much because it is not a supremely important, dignified and distinguished office, but because of some of the Vice Presidents which have been furnished by the Republican party as the "tail to the kite."

As a matter of fact, the man named for Vice President should be no less distinguished and able than the Presidential nominee. As the possible and probable successor to the President it is of great National importance that he should be a big man. That aside, however, the Vice President is the president of the Senate and that great office alone should call for a statesman who is powerfully equipped as to ability and who has the capabilities for making a great parnamentarian. In the eyes of the world the position calls for a big man and the Republic should see to it that he meets that expectation at home and abroad.

GREATER CIVIC HOSPITALITY.

Raleigh has set the pace in the manner, method, heartiness and thoroughness of taking care of a big crowd of visitors. Most of our North Carolina cities are able to provide for ordinary crowds and pretty good streams of visitors, but there are times when hotel accommodations are taxed and the question of satisfying appetites becomes quite a problem. These worrisome problems come when there are such great gatherings as the State Democratic Convention, which met at Raleigh last week. However, North Carolina's Capital City showed us how to meet such an emergency and triumph over it in a manner that has been striking and admirable. In referring of it, the Asheville Citizen speaks in this appreciative manner:

"The general comment of people and press on Raleigh's management of the recent Democratic State Convention is that the capital city did herself proud, and that she surpassed all former records in the State for the efficient handling of large crowds. We have not attempted to ascertain what it cost the citizens of Raleigh to dispense unusual hospitality to 1,000 delegates, and the hundreds of visitors that accompanied them, but we do know that entertainment on so lavish a scale has never before been attempted at any political convention, or gathering of similar size, in this State. Nor are we unmindful of the tremendous expense Raleigh incurred in the erection of her magnificent auditorium. It is generally known that the people of the capital city undertook to build an auditorium that would accommodate the largest convention, and how well she succeeded is now a matter of common knowledge. But even those who expected great things were astounded by the architectural triumph of one of the finest auditoriums that the South can boast. The Citizen delights in adding its expression of appreciation to the many flattering commendations that are now going in Raleigh's direction."

The above is only a sample of the chorus of commendation that Raleigh has reaped for herself from the press and from those who attended both the Democratic and Republican conventions. Referring to the Citizen's very kind remarks, the Raleigh Times says: "When Raleigh undertook to handle these conventions she had no other purpose than to 'make good', and she went about it with the full determination to keep all her promises and then give a few extra touches for good measure."

From all we can read and hear Raleigh certainly did make good in handling the Democratic convention. Raleigh not only had the commodious hall necessary for a great convention to meet in comfort, but her extra hotel accommodations and rooming facilities were quite adequate for the immense crowd which visited the State capital on this occasion. It was the largest crowd that ever visited Raleigh on a convention occasion, and that might have been expected, for North Carolina is growing and so our cities have to keep pace in their growth and accommodations in order to keep abreast of a State which is increasing its population and adding to its going about people as their means enlarge in proportion to a prosperity that covers the State from the mountains to the sea.

It is gratifying to observe that Raleigh was equal to the occasion in the matter of her own expansion and in her increase of facilities proportionate to the needs of a great convention. All that aside, however, the most significant thing about it is that the live people of Raleigh availed themselves of the opportunity to demonstrate a new brand of intelligent, gracious and cordial hospitality. It was a methodical, systematic and earnest hospitality and civic attention that is giving a new, very wholesome and exceedingly pleasant impression of Raleigh.

It is hardly necessary to say that all this put Raleigh to considerable expense and an immense amount of trouble, but it certainly has put the State Capital in the class of clever cities. Those Raleigh gentlemen who originated and carried out the plans for giving their visitors the glad hand and who were so persistent and unremitting in effectively demonstrating Raleigh's hearty welcome, showed that they know how to do it and that they splendidly did it.

We don't mind saying that Raleigh has set all our cities an example that is worth emulating if we would garner good words from visitors, add to the reputation of our cities, and get a new and better estimate placed upon our cities. No doubt it will prove to be a paying investment for Raleigh, and the net results would be good for all our cities.

Let us more than ever bend our efforts towards making Wilmington the cleverest city in North Carolina. Raleigh has cleverly showed us the way to a greater civic hospitality.

THUGGERY AND STEAM ROLLERISM.

Next Tuesday at Chicago will demonstrate the stamina and standard of Republicans, and the Presidential election on Tuesday, November 5th, will try out the principles and National character of the men of the United States. The world will be apt to measure us more by the way we vote in November than it will by what is to take place at Chicago next Tuesday. It will watch to see whether we will endorse disgraced Republicanism as it has been displayed in this campaign.

The Nation has been humiliated by the unseemly and unstatesmanlike fight for the Republican nomination, but the Presidential election will give American men an opportunity to demonstrate whether their ideals are high or ignoble. We shall see, and the world shall observe, whether we shall repudiate the disgraceful methods adopted in this National crisis or whether we shall condone the contemptible spectacle that two Republican aspirants have presented to us and high minded foreigners who have been interested spectators of this campaign in a presumably self-governing country. It is humiliating to note that not very much is thought by our British cousins of the campaign for the Republican nomination for the Presidency. Thus we see the Pall Mall Gazette, of London, making this editorial reference to it:

"Mr. Roosevelt," says the Gazette, "is certainly going to make a race of it with his opponent. His easy victory in California upsets all the calculations of the Taft party, and if his success should be repeated this week in the latter's own State, Ohio, the President's chances of nomination will almost have vanished. The two candidates have covered each other so thickly with mud that the American people may be compelled for their own dignity to find some other occupant of the White House. The 'dog fight' as it has come to be called, is a spectacle too lamentable to amuse even the distant, detached onlooker. Englishmen will not forget the respect due to the head of a great, friendly Nation, but the manners of this contest are not making it easy to remember."

We confess that we could not expect our English friends to think much of our prize ring, cowboy politics characterized by knocking 'em through the ropes, standing 'em on their heads, got 'em going with their backs to the wall, nailing and counter nailing lies, naked fraudery, naked thievery, and pitting of the big stick against the steam roller, in a country where we are supposed to have an orderly popular government and a constitutional Republic.

What will be thought of us, if on the 5th of November, we do not overwhelmingly register at the polls our condemnation and utter repudiation of a party and men who have lowered American standards and caused the world to look upon us as a government of the rabble, by the rabble, for the rabble. Americans, without regard to past political affiliation, ought to put one in the ballot box to show the world that this is not a Nation hoodlums controlled by blatant thuggery and filthy lucre.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The suggestion of a "get together banquet" is not taking in Chicago. But neither side would draw the color line at this stage of the game.—Columbia State.

T. Coleman duPont, of Delaware, has switched to Roosevelt, not that he loves Taft less, but the powder trust more.—Chester (Pa.) Republican.

The New York Herald and Baltimore Sun have suggested Senator Overman for the Vice Presidential nomination at Baltimore, whereat Senator Overman blushes. Nothing would please his State and the whole country more. However, we do not know that he would like to be shelved. No doubt scores of men who would like to have his present job will give him a boost.—Greensboro Record.

The State of North Carolina paid a graceful compliment to Virginia in erecting to the memory of Henry Lawson Wyatt a handsome monument in the city of Raleigh. Lawson, a Virginian in the army of the Confederacy, is said to have been the first Confederate to lose his life. This is hardly historically true, but he was among the first to fall in defense of Southern rights, and North Carolina shows a fine spirit in honoring his memory.—Petersburg Index-Appeal.

We saw a farmer in an adjoining county going home one day last Fall with a load of baled hay, which he had bought in town at $1.50 per hundred. No doubt he had carried a load of tobacco to town and got about enough for it to pay for the hay. The farmer who has to buy hay at $1.50 per hundred, and doesn't raise enough meat to do him, had better cut cut tobacco and cotton and raise more feed and meat. Feed is going up daily and the last quotation was $1.65 per hundred for baled hay.—Durham Sun.

The suggestion of National Committeeman Daniels, of North Carolina, that at the Baltimore convention the candidate having the second highest number of votes on the ballot on which the nomination for President is made shall be offered the nomination for Vice President seems to be a good one. If adopted it would assure a first-class man as candidate for that office. It is too often the case that a second or third-class man is named for Vice President to satisfy a faction in some State that it is hoped to carry through that faction's influence or for some other reason that is based wholly on politics. It is seldom that the candidate for Vice President is chosen because of his fitness for the office Mr. Daniels hasn't yet talked the matter over with the leaders of the party, and will not do so unti the convention meets. It has real merit, and stands a very good chance of meeting with approval.—Savannah News.

Hon. Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina, now in Baltimore, has an idea in his head. No, we do not refer to a laudable ambition to be Secretary of the Interior, in case of the nomination and election of Woodrow Wilson. This is a purely non-partisan, impersonal idea—and it is in many ways a good one. To be brief, Mr. Daniels concludes that the hour has struck when the Vice President should be something more than a tail to a kite, or a can to a tail, as the case may be. He points out that Thomas Jefferson was willing to be Vice President; that Hendricks, although twice disappointed in the effort to be nominated for President, thought it no dishonor to occupy second place on the ticket, and that there ought to be something other than the usual haste and unconcern in selecting from a horde of mediocrities the most patently innocuous gentleman with a cargo who sails over the horizon. That is, that, or words to that effect.—Richmond Virginian.

New Orleans, June 13.—A desperate fight is being waged in La Foourche and adjoining parishes to keep the flood waters of Hymelia crevasse from inundating several valuable sugar plantations, the flooding of which will increase property loss by thousands. Several plantation owners have given up the fight as hopeless and are taking their losses philosophically.

WOMAN'S MOST SUCCESSFUL MEDICINE

Known All Over The World —Known Only For The Good It Has Done.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of whom state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

MUST PROVIDE INCINERATOR

County Board of Health Gives City Just Two Weeks in Which to Act—Spicy Meeting Yesterday Afternoon.

At a rather lively meeting of the County Board of Health yesterday afternoon Mayor Joseph D. Smith, who is a member of the body, was instructed to inform the City Council that the city must take steps within the next two weeks to install an incinerator or reduction plant to destroy refuse and garbage. The board adjourned to meet again two weeks from yesterday and it was intimated that unless Council has shown a willingness to comply with the mandate of the highest health authority in the county that indictments will be brought against the city officials.

There was a sharp tilt between Mayor Smith and Dr. E. J. Wood soon after the meeting convened. Mayor Smith remarked that although the resolution of the County Board of Health prohibiting burying of refuse anywhere in the county was adopted June 7th, 1909, that there was no effort to enforce the measure so long as the work was done by private contracting firms, but as soon as the city takes charge of the work,and at a time when it has not sufficient funds in hand to construct an incinerator, there is talk of indictments unless the provisions of the resolution are carried out. To this Dr. Wood replied, resenting what was declared to have been an insinuation that the Board of Health was influenced by any motive other than the betterment of health and sanitary conditions of the city. He called attention to the fact that the Board of Health is really a law-making body and that the execution of the laws devolves upon some other department of the county government. However, the law relative to the burying of refuse had been disregarded long enough and that so far as he personally was concerned it must be enforced. Dr. Wood has endeavored at different times during the three years the measure has been on the minutes of the board to have it enforced and has announced his purpose to continue his efforts until success is assured.

A resolution was offered by Dr. Wood to the effect that all carcasses must be buried six feet under ground. It was adopted. It was stated at the meeting that in many instances carcasses of horses and other animals have been hauled out in the woods and left on top of the ground. This brought up the matter of employing an assistant to the county superintendent of health for the purpose of aiding in securing the enforcement of the laws of the county. One of the duties of the assistant, who would be designated as a health officer, would be to see that the law relative to carcasses was obeyed. Offered by Prof. Washington Catlett, and seconded by Dr. Wood, the following was adopted:

"Be it ordered that committee, consisting of Drs. E. J. Wood and Harllee Bellamy, be appointed to go before the County Commissioners of New Hanover county and request that an assistant to the county superintendent of health be employed temporarily to aid in carrying out the health laws of the county."

Asked last night about the probable action of the City Council relative to the demand of the County Board of Health, Mayor Smith said that while he could not speak for the Council, he did not think that the city was in position at this time to provide the incinerator, which would cost $20.000 or $30,000. He said that he and other members of Council were willing and ready to build an incinerator, but that there is no money for this purpose. The matter will be presented to Council at the next meeting, he said, and whatever the decision is he will communicate it to the County Board of Health.

Chairman Duncan McEachern presided at the meeting and in attendance were Drs. E. J. Wood and Harllee Bellamy, Mayor Joseph D. Smith, Prof. Washington Catlett, superintendent of public instruction; Dr. W. D. MacMillan, county superintendent of health, members of the board, and Marsden Bellamy, Esq., county attorney, and Mr. John Haar, the clerk.

The opinion was expressed by several persons who were acquainted with the proceedings of the County Board of Health, that a movement has now been started that will crystalize in a few weeks in the installation of a plant for the disposal of city refuse and garbage—something that the city has long needed.

INEXPRESSIBLY SAD DEATH

Little Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCabe Dies of Lockjaw

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCabe will tenderly sympathize with them in the death of their six-year-old daughter, Norma Eloise McCabe, which occurred at the family residence, No. 408 South Fifth street, at 6:45 o'clock last evening. Lockjaw, produced from a splinter in one of her feet, was the cause of death. The little girl was out on the porch Thursday night playing, but yesterday her foot gave her considerable pain and she remained in the house. While the foot was inflamed and very painful it was not known at the time just what was causing the trouble. Yesterday afternoon shortly before 6 o'clock she became worse and lockjaw came as a result. Two physicians were hurriedly summoned, but they could do nothing for the little sufferer, who passed away just one hour after the attack.

The funeral will be held from the family residence at 4 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, and interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

BITTEN BY MAD DOG.

Young Man and Little Girl Victims of Rabid Canine's Teeth.

Mr. Jas. C. Berger, a young man of the city, and little Miss Frances Cheek, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cheek, are receiving Pasteur treatment for bites from a rabid dog. Mr. Bergen was bitten Saturday afternoon and Miss Cheek Sunday morning.

The dog was a pet at the Cheek home, and while Mr. Bergen was there Saturday afternoon he was bitten by the animal when he stopped to pet it. This was thought strange as the dog was usually friendly. Sunday morning the animal bit Miss Frances and then it was that it was suspected that the dog might be rabid. Dr. E. J. Wood was called in and he recommended the Pasteur treatment, which he has been administering to both victims.

In the meantime the dog was killed and its head sent to Raleigh for an examination by Dr. Shore, of the State Department of Biology. A report has been received from him to the effect that the dog was undoubtedly rabid.

However, as the treatment was begun so soon after Mr. Bergen and Miss Cheek were bitten, little apprehension is felt for any serious results. It is felt certain that the Pasteur treatment will effectually ward off any ill effects that might have resulted.

To Visit Old Home

Sailing on the Kronprinzessin Cecille, of the North German Lloyd line, from New York on July 9th, Messrs. C. Richter and C. F. Seitter will visit their old homes in Germany. They have secured their passage through Mr. A. D. PRIMARY NEXT TUESDAY

Contest Between Congressman Godwin and Hon. N. A. Sinclair to be Decided at That Time—Mr. Godwin Here.

Congressman H. L. Godwin, who is here looking after his interests in the approaching Congressional primary, which will be held next Tuesday, June 18th, states that after a trip over the district he is surprised to find that so few persons know of the date of the primary. Of course, in the cities, the date seems to be generally known, but he declares that in the rural districts almost no one is aware of the primary date.

The primary will be held throughout the district on June 18th, from 12 o'clock noon to 7 P. M., and every Democratic voter who will be qualified to vote at the general election in November is qualified to vote in the primary. There will be no registration, no oaths or pledges will be required of anyone offering to vote. In case of challenge the primary officers will be the judges and pass upon the question as to whether the person offering shall vote.

Except for the lack of knowledge as to the date of the primary, Congressman Godwin is very well pleased with the conditions in the district as he has found them. He stated that the farmers of the district are very busy now on their fields and that this may account in some measure for the fact that few know the primary is so near at hand.

Congressman Godwin yesterday made a personal inspection of the National cemetery. He has pending before the Congress a bill making a handsome appropriation for beautifying its grounds, and he will go before the Military Committee and urge favorable action. When making his inspection yesterday he was accompanied by a party of Wilmingtonians, among whom were Burke H. Bridgers, Esq., who is actively engaged in developing Carolina Heights; Mr. E. C Holt, president of Delgado Mills; Mr Martin O'Brien, W. F. Jones, Esq., and Mr. J. H. Sykes, of this city, and Capt. R. B. Davis, who, in a sense, was the prime mover of this enterprise. Congressman Godwin expressed himself as equally surprised and delighted by the rapid development of both Carolina Heights and Carolina Place, and said that he is fully convinced of the necessity of so ornamenting the cemetery grounds as to bring them into harmony with their surroundings. He said that he is confident that he will succeed in securing the appropriation.

WILL MEET TODAY

North Carolina Pine Association In Session at the Oceanic

With a large number of members present from all the States embraced in the association, the regular quarterly meeting of the North Carolina Pine Association will be held in the assembly hall of the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, today, the first session convening at 11 o'clock. The membership of the association is composed of lumber manufacturers of Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina. Mr. Horton Corwin, of Edenton, N. C., president of the association and Mr. W. B. Roper, of Norfolk, Va., secretary and treasurer, as well as a large number of others, arrived yesterday and last night. Others will arrive this morning. There is no set programme, but a number of matters pertaining to the lumber industry will be considered.

Pardon May be Revoked.

Walter Bell, a white man of the city, who was sentenced to a term of 18 months on the county roads for cutting a man, and who was later pardoned by the Governor on condition that he lead a sober and industrious life, was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly on a capias issued from the Recorder's court, it being alleged that he has not fulfilled his agreement and has violated the conditions upon which he was pardoned. He was lodged in jail to await developments in the matter. Woodus Kellum, Esq., has been retained in the case and he stated yesterday afternoon that steps will be taken to have the Governor revoke the pardon, so that Bell may be compelled to serve out his term.

To Execute Bridge Contract.

Chairman Duncan McEachern yesterday issued a call for a special meeting of the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county to be held next Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of passing upon and executing the contract for the erection of the bridge over the Northeast branch of the Cape Fear river and for the consideration of other matters connected therewith as well as any other matters which may be brought before the body. It is expected that in a short time now work on the bridge will be commenced and that it will be completed six or eight months later.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Southern Realty & Development Company to C. S. Elam, for $10 and other considerations, lots 73, 74 and 75 in Lakeside Park; Wrightsville Beach Suburban Developing Company to Cuthbert Martin, for $1,000 and other considerations, lot "P", Wrightsville Beach; Wilmington Suburban Company to W. Newkirk, for $10 and other considerations, lot on Wright, 33 feet east of 14th street, 33x99 feet in size.

Funeral of Mrs. Morisey.

The funeral of Mrs. A. D. Morisey, whose death occurred Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the family residence, No. 819 South Fifth street, and was attended by a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives. Rev. Thos. P. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, of which the deceased was a devoted member, conducted the services. Interment was in Bellevue cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. W. H. Fuchs, J. J. Mohr, Roger S. Liles, and Joseph Bryant.

All races are open, any one can enter his horse or mule for Saturday's race at Highwood Park. je 12-4t.

OPENING SESSION LAST NIGHT

Annual Meeting of North Carolina Christian Endeavor Union at St. Andrew's Memorial Hall—Large Attendance

Opening under decidedly favorable auspices and attended by delegates from most of the principal cities of the State, with more expected to arrive late last night and today, the 1912 convention of the North Carolina Christian Endeavor Union convened last evening in Memorial Hall of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, to continue through Sunday. If the interest and enthusiasm of the opening session may be taken as an indication of what is to follow the convention bids fair to be one of the most successful ever held in the State.

All of the local churches and Christian Endeavor societies are co-operating with St. Andrew's in entertaining the visitors and the delegates are guests in homes all over the city. The delegates began arriving yesterday morning and continued all through the day. Others are expected to arrive this morning.

Three sessions will be held today, morning, afternoon and evening. The morning session will be held in the Memorial Hall at St. Andrew's, while the afternoon session will be held on the steamer Wilmington, down and up the river to and from Old St. Phillip's church, Brunswick county, which the convention will visit. The evening session will be held at St. Andrew's.

Last evening's session was largely attended by members of the local Christian Endeavor societies, as well as by the delegates to the meeting. The convention was preceded by a devotional service led by Mr. Joseph Sharrock, of this city. Rev. R. E. Steele, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Lumberton and president of the North Carolina Christian Endeavor Union, called the convention to order at 8:20 and delivered the opening prayer.

Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's, delivered the address of welcome, in his usual sincere and cordial manner. Dr. McClure made the visitors welcome on behalf of the city and the local Christian Endeavor societies, extending to them the hospitality of the Wilmington homes and of Memorial Hall. He referred to the fact that he had been a member of the Christian Endeavor almost since the date of its organization and stated that he knew personally of the real worth of the society and of the great work that it is doing. He declared that Wilmington and the local churches and Christian Endeavor societies are proud to be the hosts to the convention.

The response was delivered by Rev. L. F. Johnson, pastor of the Christian Church of Raleigh, who accepted on behalf of the delegates the welcome extended by Dr. McClure. The speaker also extended to the convention, on behalf of his church and the First Presbyterian church of Raleigh, an invitation to meet in the Capital City next year.

Rev. Earle J. Harold, pastor of the Friend's church of Greensboro, delivered the first address of the convention, his subject being, "Preparation for Efficiency." He declared that the essentials in preparation for efficiency were, first, prayer; second, work and study, and third, vision. Without these the preparation cannot be complete. The speaker cited as an example of efficiency the experience of a contracting company, which by the use of modern methods cut down the number of men engaged in excavating dirt, and had the work done just as quickly and as satisfactorily at a far less cost. Mr. Harold declared that prayer was the greatest factor in efficiency and that the apostles did not ask Christ to teach them how to preach or how to conduct ceremonies, but did ask Him to teach them to pray.

Study and work were also vital factors, he stated, declaring that the test of efficiency must be stood through knowledge. To accomplish best results in Christian Endeavor work a knowledge of the community is essential. He declared that the larger churches of the city should reach out and lend helping hands to the smaller rural churches, and that all should work in community co-operation in a social and religious way.

Next to prayer, vision was the most necessary thing in the preparation for efficiency. Vision, or looking forward, said the speaker, is primarily the gift of the young people, as the older people are more given to dreaming about the past. Preparation for efficiency is builded on prayer, work and study and vision combined.

The other address of the evening was delivered by Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, bishop of the diocese of East Carolina, who spoke on "Efficiency in Unity." Bishop Strange declared that efficiency is the great word of today; in the world of commerce and business there is no more significant word. Why, then, asked the speaker, should this word not be just as vital in the business of the Kingdom? Bishop Strange declared that he stood for unity, believed in unity, and prayed for unity because Jesus Christ did so and because he believes that Jesus Christ thought this to be the most efficient way for the Church of God to work. The Christian Church that won the first great victories, he said, was one in faith, life and organization, else it never could have overcome the opposition of the dark ages.

A community wherein the people work together for the common good could always be told by its prosperity, avowed Bishop Strange, and there never was a city taken or never a people beaten where the individual citizen laid aside all personal likes and differences and worked for the good of the whole city or Nation. Lay aside all personal preferences and differences, urged the speaker, and work together for the glory of God and the good of your fellowman.

After the session had been brought to a close a reception was tendered the visiting delegates in Memorial Hall and the event was one of a most enjoyable nature. The time was spent in pleasant social intercourse, the visitors mingling with the Wilmington Christian Endeavorers and everybody getting acquainted. St. Andrew's Harmony Orchestra rendered appropriate music throughout the receptoion and delicious refreshments also added to the pleasure of the occasion.

Today's Programme

The convention will reconvene this morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. J. J. Walker, of Wilson, will lead the quiet hour service, following which communications will be read and the appointment of committees made. This will be followed by the reading of the reports of the State secretary and treasurer, the State president, the various departments and the reports of the societies. Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells will speak on "Efficiency in Prayer," and Rev. J. J. Walker on "Efficiency in Bible Study." Rev. R. E. Steele, the State president, will lead the round-table conference.

The convention will be the guests of Capt. John W. Harper on the steamer Wilmington on a trip to Old St. Phillip's church, Brunswick county, at 2:45 in the afternoon. Any person caring to go on this trip is extended a cordial invitation, though, of course, only the delegates will be carried free of charge. Sessions will be held on the boat on the way down the river and back up. Officers will be elected and there will be an address on Junior Work, by Miss Jessie Williams. Prof. Amick, of Elon College, will lead the round-table discussion on 'Committee Efficiency."

At 8 o'clock the convention will reconvene at Memorial Hall. Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells will lead the devotional service. Rev. L. F. Johnson, of Raleigh, will discuss "Efficiency in Temperance; a Saloonless Nation in 1920." Rev. F. J. Mallett, Ph. D., of Salisbury, will speak on "Incentives to Social Efficiency."

There will be also a discussion of new lines of Christian Endeavor work. The visiting ministers will fill local pulpits tomorrow morning. Rev. J. J. Walker, of Wilson, will preach at the Dock Street Christian church; Rev. R. E. Steele at the First Presbyterian church; Rev. L. F. Johnson at St. Andrew's church, and Rev. Frank J. Mallett at St. John's Episcopal church.

The closing session of the convention will be held Sunday evening.

Date Examination Changed

The examination for midshipmen in the Naval Academy at Annapolis from the Third North Carolina district will take place at Goldsboro Tuesday, June 18th, instead of Thursday, June 20th, as formerly announced. Congressman John M. Faison has requested that the papers announce the change in date of the examination.

DON'T BE THIN

No Need of Being Scrawny, Weak and Emaciated

In these days of physical culture and health foods, one would hardly expect to see any thin, weak, emaciated people, but in spite of all this, nearly every person you meet is thin and scrawny.

Good healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food with thorough assimilation of the fat-giving elements. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets.

Samose has valuable flesh-forming and tissue-building properties, and when it is assimilated with the food, it causes the flesh-making elements to be retained and the weight is naturally increased.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., the popular druggists, have sold in the last few weeks, a great many packages of Samose, every one with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not give satisfaction and has had but one person ask for the money.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Rev. J. S. Crowley will conduct services at the Phoenix Presbyterian church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

—Rev. J. M. Plowden will preach at Immanuel Presbyterian church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. J. S. Crowley, the pastor, will preach at 8 P. M.

—The Daughters of Rebekah conducted an excursion to Carolina Beach yesterday. A large number enjoyed the outing, the steamer Wilmington having a large crowd on both trips.

—William Hall, the well known colored drayman, asks that it be stated that he is not the William Hal who was arrested for reckless driving, after running against and knocking down a white lady several days ago.

—At the weekly shoot of the Wilmington Gun Club yesterday afternoon Mr. J. E. Taylor and L. Clayton Grant, Esq., tied for highest score, with 83 birds each. Mr. Coley was second with 80. In view of the hard winds that were blowing these scores are considered excellent.

—Geo. McAllen, and a negro named Morriss, alias "Banjo", charged with the larceny of a suit of clothes from James Murphy, a cook at The Orton Hotel, were given hearing before Justice Harriss yesterday afternoon, and probable cause being found were sent over to the Recorder.

—The regular meeting of Cape Fear Camp, No. 254, U. C. V., was held in the W. L. I. armory last evening at 8 o'clock. Only routine business matters came up, but Gen. Jas. I. Metts, the commander, and others who attended the reunion at Macon, entertained the camp by relating incidents of the reunion.

—Edward Green, a white man, was given hearing yesterday before Justice Bornemann on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon upon Andrew Cabon, it being alleged that he used a brick. Probable cause was found and Green was sent over to the Recorder under $50 bond. Cabon was found guilty of assault and battery upon Green and was taxed the costs.

—The Hanover Realty Company yesterday sold to Mr. J. T. King two handsome lots on the south side of Chesnut street, between 17th and 18th streets, for a consideration of about $4,000. The lots are in a beautiful section of the city and one that is rapidly coming to the front as a desirable residential location. It is understood that Mr. King bought the property as an investment.

..Theatrical..

The Grand Theatre.

"Fatima", a romance of a beautiful Arab girl, and "The White Hope," a comic novelty, will be among the films presented at the Grand today. A third film will be shown that will be equally as good as those named.

"The White Hope", Tim Sharkey, a worthless, good-for-nothing, can't find work and his spouse tirades gloriously in his ears while she swirls the family wash around the tub. Tim sits at the table smoking and jawing and suddenly sees in the paper an "ad" for a pugilistic "White Hope", who can earn a barrel of money trimming aspiring pugs. He imagines himself the only "White Hope" and sets out for the home of the fight promoter. Arriving at the home of the promoter Tim slams the punching bag from its hook and almost kills the promotor with one blow while he puffs out a lamp at a distance of ten feet. He is escorted to the Athletic Club, but once the gloves are on his hands he proves a pigmy and is being severely whipped when he is suddenly aroused by his wife beating him over the head with a wash tub. He ends sitting in a tub of suds a madder and wetter man.

At the Bijou

The new Bijou certainly knows how to strike the popular fancy and to present the show fascinating. It has a peculiar though decidedly delightful knack of selecting films that possess rare charm and that are really fascinating. A striking example of this will be forthcoming today, when a bill of unusual excellence, even for so great a moving picture theatre as the Bijou, will be offered. Showing this, one of the star photoplays for today will be Selig's masterpiece, "The Mystery of Room 29." It is a real detective story, thrilling and deep-dyed in mystery, vividly made into moving picture form. It is a modern detective story of exceptional theme, taken from Arthur P. Hankin's great story, "The Lest Forget." It is something decidedly out of the ordinary and will be excitingly enjoyed.

Another star novelty for today is, "Two Weary Willies," and if there are any characters people like to behold on stage or in moving pictures they are the American tramps. The "Weary Willies" of this story are corkers and will make every one roar.

Still another feature film for today is "The Substitute" and its central character is a would-be reporter. It is another laugh photoplay.

There are other films and there will be plenty of jolly music, as well as the usual solid comfort of the Bijou, where cool weather prevails on the hottest days and where the ventilation is fresh, free and healthful. Verily, today promises to be a glorious week-end at the handsome new Bijou.

To Keep Skin White, Velvety, Wrinkle-Free

(Aunt Sally, in Woman's Realm.)

C. M. W. says: "My arms are so coarse and rough I cannot wear short sleeves. What do you advise?" The treatment recommended to "Anise" will doubtless overcome this condition.

A. F. G. asks: "What should I do for crow's feet and for a baggy neck?" Try a wash lotion made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in 1-2 pint witch hazel. This is immediately effective in any wrinkled or flabby condition. Use daily for awhile and results will surprise you.

Anise: A simple way to keep your skin smooth, soft and white is to apply ordinary mercolized wax before retiring, washing it off in the morning. This keeps the face free from the particles of lifeless cuticle which constantly appear. The wax absorbs these worn-out particles, so the younger, fresher, healthier skin is always in view. An ounce of mercolized wax may be had at small cost at any drug store. Use like cold cream.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Mrs. R. Josephson and Mrs. G. Dannenbaum and children, of Wilmington, are spending some days at the Hanover Inn.

Prof. and Mrs. Eugene Baker, who spent several days most pleasantly on the beach, guests at the Hanover, left yesterday for their home at Athens, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. deJarnette and children, of Montgomery, Ala., who have been spending some days at The Oceanic, expect to leave some time next week for the North. They will go by boat.

Mrs. Reynolds and daughter, Miss Margaret Reynolds, of Newport News, who have been guests of their son and brother, respectively, Mr. Bradford B. Reynolds, at Mrs. William Parsley's cottage, left yesterday for their home.

Mr. H. H. McLean, of Farmville, N. C., who has spent some days at the Oceanic Hotel, left yesterday for his home. He expressed himself as being highly pleased with Wrightsville Beach and said that he hoped to return in August for a longer stay.

The arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday included the following: S. M. Burt, Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Pittman, Whitakers; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Broyles, Miss Frances Broyles and Master Norris Broyles and Miss Harriett McCollough, Atlanta; Julius C. Smith, Charlotte.

In addition to the telegraph offices which have been opened at the Seashore and Oceanic Hotels, there will be a telegraph office at Lumina, the terminus of the suburban line, and it will be in charge of a capable operator. All the offices are operated by the Western Union Telegraph Co.

Messrs. F. E. Ford, L. B. M. Dearman, Miss Lydia Russell, Miss Mattie Ford and Miss Mary Formyduval composed a party from Whiteville here Thursday night to attend the Pythian dance at Lumina. They were guests at The Oceanic Hotel and returned home yesterday morning.

The Tidewater Power Company has begun its local service on the beach and a special car for the resort has been in operation for the past several days. The car is operated on a 15-minute schedule between Lumina and the Oceanic Hotel and it is proving a great convenience to the residents of the resort.

Among the arrivals at The Oceanic Hotel yesterday were Guy I. Buell, Spring Hope; G. L. Hume, Suffolk, Va.; T. E. Rogers, Norfolk, Pa.; Jas. R. Clark and D. L. Leaft, Baltimore; Horton Corwin, Edenton, president of the North Carolina Pine Association; W. B. Roper, secretary and treasurer; Thos. C. Flynn, Norfolk, Va.

Among the guests at Mrs. William Parsley's attractive cottage are Mrs. Wingfield, Mrs. Melton and Mrs. Haywood, of Columbia, S. C.; Mrs. Helen W. Longwell, of New York; Mrs. Burwell, of Charlotte; Mrs. Ray G. Frost, of Houston, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Whitehead, Miss Mamie Mitchell and Miss Alice Atkinson, of Wilmington.

A partry from the city had a most successful fishing expedition out from the Oceanic Hotel yesterday morning. They went out on the sailboat Edwin, Capt. Oscar Salter. There was a stiff breeze and sailing was fine. Over 200 fish were caught by the party, which was composed of Messrs. B. T. Hopkins, J. H. Mitchell, H. B. Sedberry, Dr. John T. Harper, and Dr. John Thames.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

A. Carson Found Guilty—Negro Vagrant to the Roads

In the Recorder's court yesterday A. Carson, white, was found guilty on a charge of disposing of mortgaged property and was fined $25 and costs. He was allowed to pay the costs and Neal E. Gallagher stood surety for the fine. Carson was alleged to have disposed of a stove on which the Hopkins Furniture Company held a mortgage.

It will be remembered that Carson and his brother, W. J. Carson, were tried in the Recorder's court several weeks ago on charges of disposing of automobile on which Mr. J. O. Brock held a mortgage. They were found guilty and fined $50 and costs, but the fines were later remitted on payment of the costs and conditional that they reimburse Mr. Brock for the amount of money which he had expended to have them brought back from Petersburg, Va., where they were arrested.

James Taylor, colored, was convicted on a charge of vagrancy and was sentenced to 30 days on the county roads. Tom Gleason, a white man, who was arrested for stealing a ride on a train, was also found guilty on a charge of vagrancy. The case was left open for sentence.

A nol pros was taken in a case charging Boise Southerland, a small negro boy, with assault and battery upon James Jones, another colored lad. The nol pros was taken on account of the youth of the defendant. Viola Southerland, a relative of the boy, was found guilty of an assault with a deadly weapon, towit, a bottle, upon the Jones lad and was sentenced to 30 days on the county farm.

Rebecca Edwards, charged with being a nuisance, was fined $10 and costs. The case came up from Justice Bronemann's court.

G. S. McDaniels and C. H. Darden, both white, were found guilty of an affray and were taxed with the costs. Three drunks were disposed of in the usual manner.

West Virginia—John J. Lincoln, Elkhorn, and George W. Bland, West Union.

One comfort about general morality is that no human being ever begins to lie before being able to talk.

The devil put envy into the human equation just to make his business a sure thing.

IN BUSINESS FIFTY YEARS

Novel Convention to Be Held in Nashville This Month

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Nashville, Tenn., June 14.—The first convention of commercial establishments that have been in continuous business at least fifty years, will meet here June 20-21, for the purpose of forming a permanent organization for practical and sentimental purposes. The call for this convention grew out of the organization of a local club of houses that have been in commercial harness for a half century or better, the parent branch now numbering 45 members.

Among matters coming before the convention will be a discussion of the evolution of modern business methods as the result of the introduction of the typewriter, the cash register, the adding machine, the telephone, the automobile, electric lights, parcel carriers, display advertising and many other appliances, devices and ideas that have worked wonders as time and labor-saving influences.

Addresses will be made by well-known business men who have witnessed the introduction and adoption of present day business necessities and by others responsible for their invention and introduction.

A large number of acceptances have been received, assuring a successful inauguration of the fifty years in business movement, these coming from all leading and many of the smaller Southern cities. About 500 delegates are expected.

STORM IN CUMBERLAND

Wind Reaches Cyclonic Proportions at Fayetteville—Much Damage

Fayetteville, N. C., June 14.—A windstorm of cyclonic proportions passed over the east end of Fayetteville this afternoon, doing considerable damage. Buildings were blown down and trees uprooted. The West Box factory and A. J. Bullard's lumber mill were partially wrecked. A three-story gin house containing 56 bales of cotton on the farm of D. J. Breece, two miles from town, was lifted from the ground, blown some distance and torn to pieces. Roads are filled with debris. No fatalities have been reported.

COTTON CONSIDERABLY HIGHER

Market Was More Active—Close Was Steady at a Net Advance of 10 to 14 Points—Opening Was Firm and Higher.

New York, June 14.—The cotton market was more active and considerably higher today with the close very steady at a net advance of from 10 to 14 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 6 to 11 points on higher cables than expected, continued large English spot sales, and reports that the gulf storm had worked northeastward over night, and had caused heavy rains in the Eastern belt. The official forecasts for continued unsettled weather, with showers or rains east of the Mississippi and dry weather in the West, where further moisture would be considered beneficial, added to the nervousness of the short interest and while there was heavy realizing the market showed a generally advancing tendency. Such slight recessions as occurred were attributed to profit taking by some of the recent larger buyers, while there was a good deal of fresh buying on the less favorable view of crop conditions, as well as active covering by shorts. Closing prices were within a point or two of the best. Private cables attributed the Liverpool advance to the strength of the old crop and bullish weather advices from this side and there was some foreign buying here during the morning. Wall Street and Southern connections were credited with being the best buyers and spot people continued to support July, they were believed to be sellers of new crop months. The advance carried the local market into new high ground for the movement and about 50 to 60 points above the low prices reached just preceding the June condition report.

Receipts at the ports today 2,804 bales against 3,072 last week and 3,074 last year; today's receipts at New Orleans 751 against 115 last year; at Galveston 450 against 215 last year; and at Houston 376 against 90 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 10 points higher. Middling uplands, 11.90; do. gulf, 12.15; sales, 100 bales.

Futures closed very steady.

STOCK DEALINGS VERY LIGHT

In the Opening Hour of Yesterday's Market the Undertone Was Irregular and Heavy—Many Declines Recorded

New York, June 14.—The first three hours of today's stock market dealings were very light and quite inconsequential, varying from irregularity to heaviness. Later the list became weak and feverish, with a marked increase of business. There followed a certain amount of liquidation with a liberal sprinkling of short selling. The movement was arrested after leading stocks had recorded declines of 2 to 3 points from yesterday's closing, but the undertone remained unsettled to the close. The general attitude of the trading towards the market was largely one of detachment or indifference and the day's dealings reported little more than the operations of an ultra-professional coterie. Call money was in better demand today, the inquiry sending the rate up to three per cent just before the close. Lenders continue to make concessions for time accommodations with a slackened offering of commercial paper.

The bond market was heavy, with sharp declines in some of the leading issues. Total sales, par value aggregated $1,791,000. United States government bonds unchanged on call. Total sales 435,300 shares.

HESTER'S STATEMENT

World's Visible Supply of Cotton is Shown to be 3,741,582 Bales

eNw Orleans, June 14.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton, issued today, shows the total visible is 3,741,582, against 3,952,120 last week and 2,678,893 last year. Of this the total of American cotton is 2,649,582, against 2,845,120 last week and 1,553,893 last year and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 1,092,000 against 1,107,000 last week, and 1,125,000 last year.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton as above there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 2,409,000, against 1,587,000 last year; in Egypt 109,000, against 112,000 last year; in India 644,000, against 588,000 last year; and in the United States 580,000, against 392,000 last year.

Move on Now!

says a policeman to a street crowd, and whacks heads if it don't. "Move on now," says the big, harsh mineral pills to bowel congestion and suffering follows. Dr. King's New Life Pills don't bulldoze the bowels. They gently persuade them to right action, and health follows. 25c at R. R. Bellamy.

THE COTTON MOVEMENT

Hester Issues Weekly New Orleans Exchange Statement

New Orleans, June. 14.—Secretary Hester's weekly New Orleans cotton statement issued today shows for the 14 days of June an increase in the totals over last year of 13,000, a decrease under the same period year before last of 19,000.

For the 288 days of the season that have elapsed the aggregate is ahead of the 288 days of last year 3,567 and ahead of the same days year before last 5,106,000.

The amount brought into sight during the past week has been 41,265 bales, against 35,130 for the seven days ending this date last year, and 45,077 year before last, and for the 14 days of June it has been 82,164, against 69,330 last year, and 101,325 year before last.

The movement since September 1st shows receipts at all United States ports 11,742,510, against 8,491,961 last year. Overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to Northern mills and Canada 955,342, against 911,824 last year; interior stocks in excess of those held at the close of the commercial year 101,808, against 80,560 last year; Southern mills' takings 2,346,000, against 2,094,085 last year.

The total movement for the 288 days of the season from September 1st to date is 15,145,660, against 11,578,430 last year.

Foreign exports for the week have been 37,190, against 38,061 last year, making a total thus far for the season 10,165,219, against 7,274,127 last year. The total takings of American mills, North, South and Canada thus far for the season have been 6,681,546, against 4,155,722 last year.

Stocks at the seaboard and the 29 leading Southern interior centers have decreased during the week 26,528 bales, against a decrease during the corresponding period last season of 25,258 and are now 181,217 larger than at this date in 1911.

Including stocks left over at ports and interior towns from the last crop and the number of bales brought into sight thus far from the new crop, the supply to date is 15,432,634, against 11,826,392 for the same period last year.

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW

Business Continues to Expand Conservatively—Iron and Steel

New York, June 14.—R. G. Dun's weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say: Business continues to expand conservatively, but steadily, with accumulating signs of a year of more than average activity. Reports from the leading cities all speak of a normal development of business, often in excess of anticipations.

There has been no check to the improvement in iron and steel and the May statement of the leading producer showed the largest total of unfilled orders since the end of December, 1909.

Operations at first hands in the cotton goods market display some conservatism, but distribution is steady.

Shoe manufacturers still report a small volume of new business.

A good way to clean a carpet-sweeper is to remove the brush, and after taking off all the hairs and lint, rub it well with a cloth wet in kerosene (coal oil). Let the brush remain in the air till the odor has evaporated. The sweeper will leave the carpets and rugs looking much brighter after this treatment.

The Open Door

SCIENTIFIC NEW DISCOVERIES.

By the electro-magnetic telegraph an operator can exactly locate a fracture in a submarine cable nearly 3000 miles long. A few fossils sent to an expert geologist enable him to accurately determine the rock formation from which they are taken. This he can describe as perfectly as if the rocky formation was before him on the table.

So, also, in medical science. Disease has certain unmistakable signs or symptoms. By reason of this fact the physicians and specialists connected with Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, are enabled to accurately determine the nature of many chronic diseases without seeing and personally examining their patients. In recognizing disease without a personal examination of the patient, they do not claim to possess miraculous powers. They obtain their knowledge of the patient's disease by practical and well-established principles of modern science. Certain diseases display certain peculiar traits. Subjected to scientific analysis they furnish abundant data to guide the judgment of the skillful practitioner. This method of treating patients at a distance, by mail, has been so successful that there is scarcely a city or a villiage in the United States that is not represented by one or more cases upon the records of practice at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute. Such rare cases as cannot be treated in this way, which require surgical operations or careful after-treatment, or electrical therapeutics, receive the services of the most skillful specialists at the Institution.

Dr. R. V. Pierce long ago established this Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute with a full Staff of Physicians who were expert in their specialties. These physicians may be consulted, by letter, free and without charge whatever, if you wish a specialist's advice upon any chronic malady. The same system of "specialites" is observed as in the departments of a medical college. The professor who would assume to lecture in all departments with equal ease and proficiency would be severely ridiculed by his colleagues, and it is just as absured to suppose that the general practitioner can keep himself informed of the many new methods of treatment that are being constantly devised and adopted in the several departments of Medicine and Surgery.

People who have been patients at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., have much to say in regard to this wonderfully equipped Sanitarium, where all the latest electrical apparatus, as well as electric water baths, Turkish baths, static electric machines, high-frequency current, and other most modern and up-to-date apparatus are used for the cure of chronic diseases. The treatment of the chronic diseases that are peculiar to women have for many years been a large factor in the cures effected at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute.

The violet-ray treatment, which is another interesting proceeding, is carried out by concentrating the light, rich in the violet or chemical rays, from an arc light with a specially prepared carbon, upon any portion of the body that may be the seat of pain. Sufferers from neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatism, strains, sprains, also from those obscure exhausting pains (the origin of which cannot at times be accurately determined) frequently find immediate relief from a single treatment and usually with a little persistence in the use of this aid, comfortable health or perfect recovery is obtained.

Then, there is the incandescent light bath, consisting of a cabinet in which the patient is bathed in the combined rays of many electric lights. It has produced really wonderful results in diabetes, sciatica, rheumatism, obesity, anaemia, and some forms of kidney and heart trouble. It has also proven valuable in chronic bronchitis, bronchial asthma and the various skin diseases. As a general hygienic measure its efficiency can scarcely be over-estimated.

In medicine there has been rapid and real progress during recent years, and Dr. Pierce has kept up with the times in that he has had the manufacture and ingredients in his well-known remedies improved in a modern laboratory by skilled chemists, the greatest care being exercised to see that the ingredients entering into his well-known medicines Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery" are extracted from the best variety of native medicinal roots, gathered with great care and at the proper season of the year, so that their medicinal properties may be most reliable.

Great care is exercised not to over encourage those who consult the specialists of this institution that no false hopes may be raised.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Cotton Prices Have Advanced on the Strength of the Law of Supply and Demand—Big Demand for Spot Cotton.

New York, June 14.—Prices have been advancing on the strength of the law of supply and demand. There has been a very sharp demand for spot cotton at the South. Liverpool spot sales throw some light on the situation. They have been at times 12,000 to 14,000 bales a day. Manchester has been more active at firmer prices. The big exports this season and the large takings of domestic and foreign mills are factors of the first importance. Wall Street and Waldorf-Astoria operators have all been buying. Rooms operators who had taken the short side on the recent good weather over much of the belt have been swept into line. Some think that the bulls are over estimating the consumption and underestimating the growing crop. Where alvocates of higher prices profess to believe that the next crop cannot be over 13,000,000 bales bears think it more probable that it will be 14,000,000 bales, if not more. They also believe that a large surplus will be carried over into next season, partly of cotton grown during the present season, but not marketed, to say nothing of the actual visible supply which will be on hand on September 1st. They think that the present price discounts all the strongest arguments of the bulls. Yet many experienced men are acting on the bull side. They think the price is cheap around 11 to 11 1-4, or even 11 1-2 cents and is bound to go higher. Some authorities state that the cotton acreage has been reduced 7.6 per cent., and that even Texas, which many had supposed was going to show an increase, actually exhibits a decrease of 3 per cent. The biggest decrease is put at 11 per cent. in Georgia. Then follow Alabama and Florida with 10.8 per cent.; Arkansas with 10.6 per cent.; Oklahoma with 10; Mississippi with 9.7; South Carolina with 96 North Carolina with 7; Tennessee with 6; Texas with 3, and Louisiana with 1.7 per cent.

This figures out a total acreage of only 33,883,000 acres against 36,681,000 last year. The crop is three to four weeks late. Within the last 30 days crop prospects, according to some reports, have improved. But many believe that the chances are against a crop of adequate size being raised. The chief feature is the excellent demand for the actual cotton at home and abroad.

New Orleans, June 12.—Reports of miserable conditions in southern Louisiana caused by the rising floods from the Hymella crevasse were brought into Gretna yesterday by refugees. A number of army officers are in the newly submerged section distributing rations and assisting the people to reach higher territory. Thousands of acres of sugar plantations have been submerged this week that were thought to be safe from the Hymelia waters.

Add a pinch of borax to the water with fresh-cut flowers and they will last longer than usual in hot weather.

$3.50 Recipe Free, For Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have it Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence, so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4163 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this —but I send it entirely free.

tent during the preceding 24 hours. Expressions on both sides were distinctly truculent.

In spite of all the talk in various quarters during the past few days about Roosevelt's coming and the positive declarations of many of his enthusiastic supporters that he surely would be in Chicago before the convention, it appears to have been the subject of doubt on the part of the Roosevelt managers up to a very short time before he decided to start.

Some of the more exuberant Roosevelt adherents at once proposed a "triumphal entry" for their candidate, but it was instantly discouraged by Senator Dixon and others of the more experienced politicians among the Roosevelt leadership. They expressed the opinion that such a procedure would be unwise and probably would have effects quite the opposite of those intended by its proposers. These councils prevailed and up to late hour tonight there were no plans for any special reception for Col. Roosevelt other than that Alexander Revell should meet him with his automobile upon his arrival and except for special police protection take him after the manner of an ordinary citizen to the hotel where a suite had been reserved for him.

There was this much ostentation about the arrangements: That the suite in the Congress hotel provided was what formerly was known as "the Presidential suite", but the Taft people met it promptly with the announcement that tomorrow, before Mr. Roosevelt gets here the Taft headquarters would be moved down stairs to the second floor into the suite which is now called by that imposing title.

Arrangements had been made for a mass meeting to be held next Monday evening, the night before the convention, in the great auditorium theatre, in Roosevelt's behalf, with a list of well known speakers.

It was said tonight that Mr. Roosevelt would be the only speaker on that occasion.

Whether he will be given opportunity to speak before the convention depends altogether upon whether he desires to do so. Even his bitterest opponents here concede tonight that so distinguished a Republican, formerly President of the United States, must be welcomed by the National convention of his party to a place on the platform, whatever might have been the private feeling of other prominent members of the party regarding his political views or position. It was not known tonight whether Col. Roosevelt would think it expedient to attend the convention in person.

As for Mr. Taft, his principal rival for the nomination, nobody here has a serious thought that he will come to Chicago under any conceivable conditions in connection with the convention. In fact, it has been positively announced by the President that under no circumstances will he come here.

Whatever their views on the subject of Col. Roosevelt's coming to the convention, there can be no doubt that it has caused a profound sensation on the part, not only of the leaders of all the candidacies, but of the delegates in the rank and file. Talk of the temporary organization of the convention of the remaining work of the National Committee, and even of the Vice Presidential nomination, subsided while all hands talked about Mr. Roosevelt's coming to Chicago.

One thing that happened during the evening interrupted even the talk about Roosevelt's trip. That was the issue from the Roosevelt headquarters of what purported to be a letter to Director McKinley, of the Taft campaign, from Charles Banks, one of the negro delegates at large from Mississippi, seated by the National Committee yesterday and credited to Taft. In this letter Banks purported to be returning to Mr. McKinley a sum of money alluded to in the letter as "a few hundred dollars" and referred to as having been advanced to him by the Taft people for "expenses of some of the delegates from Mississippi."

The reply of the Taft headquarters, in the form of a remark from Mr. McKinley, was brief and oracular. Mr. McKinley said: "I hope every Republican will read the Bank's letter with extreme care and then draw his own conclusions. Its disclosures are illuminating. Its issuance from the Roosevelt headquarters is significant."

It was more than intimated that this was merely the forerunner of more specific material to be issued from the Taft headquarters tomorrow.

Such talk as there was tonight about the matters incidental or subsidiary to the main issue of the Taft-Roosevelt battle showed little change in the situation as regards temporary organization, work of the committee on credentials, platform, etc. Obviously, as one leader put it, "the tail goes with the hide."

Whoever has the majority of the delegates will control the temporary organization and probably the committee on credentials and resolutions. If it turns out that the Taft people have votes enough to nominate their man, already announced, their slate presumably will go through to success.

If the Roosevelt people have the majority they claimed tonight—they would give no figures—they can name their own temporary chairman and otherwise organize the convention.

One of the rumors late today was that there had been overtures from the Roosevelt to the LaFollette people, in the form of an offer to join in the selection as temporary chairman of some one to be selected by Senator LaFolletter or his adherents. It was said that the LaFollette men rejected the proposal, and that the event would show that their strength while cohesive for their own purposes, could not be held together for any Roosevelt purpose.

Behind the conflict of claims between the adherents of the leading candidates and the grim silence from the LaFollette camp, there rose up a lively little show of hope—almost, it might be described, as confidence—in the Iowa delegation that out of the turmoil would come at last the nomination of Senator Cummins. The Iowa men were not claiming anything except their Senator and ex-Governor was "the most available man," but they said that the delegates from Iowa instructed for Taft were Cummins men at heart and would welcome the opportunity to cast their votes for him should the President's nomination prove to be impossible.

In a statement inspired by Col. Roosevelt's start for Chicago, Director McKinley declared that his coming is an "undeniable admission of defeat which the coming of Mr. Roosevelt will only make more certain."

William J. Barnes, Jr., of New York, also issued a statement concerning Mr. Roosevelt's coming.

"Undignified as it is and impotent as will prove to be," he declared, "its chief interest lies in its disclosure of that mania for power, over which Roosevelt has no control."

Mr. Barnes says that Col. Roosevelt will go into the convention half himself, "and there attempt to control that convention, demand to be heard in his own behalf, and if he is not permitted to do so, he will nevertheless continue his demonstrations under the influence of the delusion that the people whose voice he fancies he hears, are calling him to overturn all order. It is a sad and humiliating spectacle to the American people."

The re-appearance of the compromise gossip called forth a lengthy statement from Director McKinley in which he charged the Roosevelt forces with encouraging the compromise talk. "This is an admission of a patent fact—namely, that Theodore Roosevelt is a defeated candidate in this convention," declared Mr. McKinley.

Plans for demonstrations of various sorts to offset the arrival of Roosevelt tomorrow were discussed by the Taft leaders, but no scheme was adopted. It was practically decided to treat the presence of the colonel with silence and disdain, although the Taft reception committee, which has begun the work of rounding up delegates and caring for them, was urged to a general activity tomorrow.

Asked why Col. Roosevelt had decided to come to Chicago, Senator Dixon, who had talked with the colonel over the telephone earlier in the day, said it was merely to expedite matters.

"It is very difficult in such a situation as this to conduct negotiations over the telephone," said Senator Dixon. "He is coming here to be in touch and to aid us in fighting the men who would steal the nomination away from the Republicans of the country."

"Was he asked to come because it was deemed a crisis had arrived which demanded his presence in order to save the situation?" Mr. Dixon was asked.

"There is apparently a good sized crisis when one considers the thievery of the National Committee in overriding the will of the sovereign States in their choice of delegates to this convention," the Senator replied.

"Will Col. Roosevelt go to the National convention?"

"I do not believe Manager McKinley, of the Taft campaign, will give Mr. Roosevelt a ticket and I am sure the sergeant-at-arms would not admit him without one," said the Senator.

The Roosevelt manager smiled as he spoke.

It was subsequently learned that Col. Roosevelt is expected to remain in Chicago until the close of the convention and that he plans to appear in the convention hall and may be given an opportunity to address the convention in his own behalf. Such a development unprecedented in every essential, undoubtedly would furnish material for a sensational demonstration.

News of the colonel's coming kindled enthusiasm in the regular afternoon meeting of the Roosevelt delegates at the Congress Hotel.

The gathering was addressed by several of the Roosevelt contesting delegates from Southern States, who had been unseated by the National Committee.

John Hays Hammond, president of the National League of Republican Clubs, is planning a Taft demonstration meeting for next Monday night, the same night of the Roosevelt meeting. Today he announced that hundreds of members of the league who will be here would launch a "Taft Boosters" club at thhe Monday night meeting.

The league also has engaged the first regiment armory near the coliseum, where it is planned to hold a "ratification meeting" next Friday night if the nomination is made by that time.

HATFIELD-McCOY FEUD OVER.

Head of One Faction Supporting Member of Other for Governor.

Bluefield, W. Va., June 13.—That the Hatfield-McCoy feud, one of the oldest and bloodiest in the history of the West Virginia-Kentucky border, has ended for all time, was indicated today, when Dr. H. J. Hatfield, cousin of "Devil Anse" Hatfield, leader of the Hatfield clan, received a telegram from A. J. McCoy, leader of the McCoy faction, indorsing his candidacy for Governor of West Virginia. The telegram was dated at Princeton, W. Va., and read:

"Greetings to Dr. Hatfield from a McCoy. Congratulations. That you may win in November is my desire."

Dr. Hatfield was nominated for Governor at the Republican primaries last week.

BOTH YOUNG WOMEN PERISH.

Miss O'Rourke Tries to Rescue Miss Hughes at Ward's Island.

New York, June 14.—Ellen O'Rourke a young attendant in the Manhattan State hospital for the insane on Ward's Island, gave her life last night in a vain endeavor to have her chum and roommate, Margaret Hughes, from death by drowning off the southern extremity of the island.

Miss Hughes fell from a ledge into the current. Miss O'Rourke caught her when she was going down the second time. But in her effort Miss O'Rourke had overstepped the safety ledge and herself fell into the stream.

Miss Hughes caught her chum about the neck and there was a desperate struggle between them. Finally both girls were dragged down.

WANT TO CHANGE THE RULES.

Clark's Friends Think Majority Enough to Select Nominee.

St. Louis, June 14.—Senator William J. Stone declared today that friends of Speaker Champ Clark will support a resolution before the Democratic National convention abolishing the two-thirds rule and providing that whenever any candidate receives a majority of the votes cast he shall be declared the party's nominee.

If a woman is unable to reform a man during a courtship, she'll never be able to do it after marriage.

ODDS ON TAFT 10 TO 8.

Bryan Gains in Favor—Even Bet Democrat Wins if Roosevelt Nominated.

New York, June 14.—Developments at Chicago have taken the heart out of the pre-convention betting in New York. The only contest on which money was wagered arcund Wall Street and in the hotels early in the fight was the nomination, and since the throwing out of Roosevelt's contests few of the men who like to take a chance on election results are willing to risk any money.

John A. Drake, who always stands to win a large sum on National elections, said today that betting around the stock exchange was at a standstill.

The odds that Taft will get the nomination are 10 to 8. One man in a brokerage office in the Waldorf-Astoria bet $2,500 at odds of 8 to 5 that Taft would be elected, if there was no bolt. A curious bet of $500 was made at even money that Bryan would be nominated at Baltimore if Roosevelt were victorious in the Chicago convention.

A broker in a Broad street office said he had bet $1,000 at even money that if Roosevelt bolted a Democrat would be elected and that he had $100,000 more to bet that way. Drake said he would be willing to wager his right eye on that proposition.

William J. Bryan, as a possibility for the Democratic nomination for President is gaining favor among those in the financial district who wager on political events. A week ago Mr. Bryan's chances were quoted at the rather unflattering odds of 10 to 1. but now the best price which the Broad street election bookmakers are willing to name against the one-time free silver advocate is 5 to 1. One of the leading makers of odds today said that the Bryan price had been forced down by Tammany money, and that there were not a few men in the financial district who favored his chances of winning out at Baltimore.

Among the other Democratic possibilities, Champ Clark still rules favorite at a nominal quotation of 9 to 5. with the rest of the field scattered out behind.

ENCOURAGING NEWS

Gen. Monteaguedo Is Resorting to Guerilla Tactics With Results

Havana, June 14.—News received at the capital tonight from the scene of operations at Oriente province, although meagre and somewhat confused, is regarded by the government as encouraging and idicating the success of the policy of General Monteaguedo, commander-in-chief of the Cuban forces in resorting to guerilla tactics.

There is no doubt that the first reports of the encounter at Jarahueca were greatly exaggerated. The government now does not claim that the rebel loss exceeds fourteen killed.

Washington, June 14.—The State Department tonight issued a statement cabled to Minister Beaupre at Havana to be made public there. It informs the Cubans that no credence should be attached to unofficial reports as to the policy or action of the United States and recalls President Taft's utterance as to the bad effect of false rumors. The statement continues in part:

"As was officially stated by the Secretary of State on June 10th, 'the United States is not contemplating intervention in Cuba, but hopes and believes the Cuban government will by prompt and active measures be able to suppress the insurrection.'"

HEADQUARTERS DECORATED

Chicago, June 14.—Decorations for the various hotel headquarters of the Presidential candidates and State delegations which neared completion last night, show many unique ideas and much rivalry for originality in designs. The headquarters of both President Taft and Col. Roosevelt are indicated by huge electric signs. In the Roosevelt room a miniature boxing ring with ropes and padded posts and a hat in the center has been erected.

One of the most elaborate displays is that of the West Virginia delegation, which occupies an entire floor of one of the large hotels. The hotel entrance as well as the rooms of the delegates is decorated with the coat of arms of the State and the motto, "The mountaineer is always free." The headquarter's floor is divided into miniature streets such as "Stage alley" and "Petticoat lane." There is also a "Bachelor's rest" and a "Benedict's Haven."

CAPITALISTS COMING

New Yorkers on Way to Spartanburg To See Properties

Spartanburg, S. C., June 14.—A. B. Leach, of the firm of A. B. Leach & Company, of New York, will arrive here tomorrow with a party of 40 friends who have recently become interested in the properties of the Electric Manufacturing & Power Company, the company owning extensive water power developments in this section, the street railway system of this city and furnishing motive power for some of the largest mills in this and ajoining counties. They come on a tour of inspection and have in mind extensive developments in the way of interurban electric lines. After visiting Gaston Shoals in Cherokee county, a large power plant on Broad river, they will be entertained at luncheon here and will leave tomorrow night for Georgia.

CRUSADE AGAINST BUTCHERS.

New York Women Warring on Steep Prices in Shops.

New York, June 14.—The crusade being waged by militant housewives against kosher shops in the campaign to lower the price of meat has spread from Brooklyn to the East Side, Harlem and the Bronx.

Several butchers in Harlem and the Bronx were forced to close their shops to protect them from the mobs of women that roamed the streets. In the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, more than 100 kosher shops were closed. Indignant housewives patrolled the streets.

The congested East Side is turning to vegetarianism.

Richmond, Va., June 14.—The warehouse of E. K. Victor & Co., leaf tobacco dealers, was almost entirely destroyed by fire late today, with a loss of $150,000.

MUST EQUIP SHIPS.

Vessels Entering American Ports Must Have Sufficient Lifeboats.

Washington, June 14.—All ocean steamers entering American ports in future must be equipped with lifeboats sufficient to carry at one time every passenger and member of the crew, according to new regulations adopted by the Steamboat Inspection Service and approved today by Secretary Nagel.

In the case of coastwise, lake, bay and sound steamers, lifeboats for all aboard must be carried, except from May 15th to September 15th, when for various reasons such travel is comparatively safe. During that period coastwise steamers must have life saving capacity for at least 60 per cent. of those on board; and lake, bay and sound steamers for at least 30 per cent. In case of the latter class of vessels, also, provision need be made only for 10 per cent. of the passengers and crew if the boats do not get further than five miles from land or do not navigate in waters deep enough to cover the vessel in case of disaster.

River steamers are required to have life boat accommodations for 10 per cent. of those aboard. A certain percentage of the lifeboat or raft equipment, varying with the class of vessel, must be approved by the steamboat inspection service.

How Much Do You Earn? How Much Do You Spend? How Much Do You Waste? How Much Do You Save?

Put some of your earnings in the Bank, it will come in handy some day.

Are you satisfied with your net results of last year? Unkept resolutions weaken you; doing what you determine to do will build your character. Bring the money you have in your pocket to our bank right now and begin the year sensibly, by starting to save and get ahead. If you do, one year from today you will thank us.

Saving only 25 cents a day—$7.50 a month—and interest will amount to over eleven hundred dollars in 10 years.
